Excess Spare Time No Problem for Senior Citizens Club Members

Nodding by the fire in slippers went out when Social Security came in, and the emblem of today's old folks is not the tabby cat but the Gray Panther.

Two representatives of the Gray Panthers, a national organization watchful of the rights of older people, will speak next Friday, February 27, to members and guests of the Princeton Senior Citizens Club. It will be a noon pot-luck lunch at the Harrison Street Firehouse. The speakers will be Dr. Doris Campbell, 74 years of age, a career dietician with a PhD. in medical science, and Mrs. Jo Turner, her associate.

And you'd better not call them "spry."

Like members of the Princeton Senior Citizens Club, they are as busy now as they were before retirement. The Princeton community, in the past few years, has provided so much for older people to do that it's just magic, where the time goes!

For example, Mrs. Harlan Conn, wife of the treasurer of the Senior Citizens Club, is a Friendly Visitor who calls on shut-ins, a participant in the new art classes sponsored by the Senior Citizens Club, an energetic member of the YWCA's three-times-a-week senior exercise class and a member of the Y's Friday Club for older women, and the Nassau Presbyterian Forty-Niners for anybody over 49.

Her husband, besides toting up the books for the club, is on the Advisory Council of the Mercer County Nutrition Project for the Elderly. This is the advisory body that oversees daily hot lunches at Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, open to anyone in the senior citizen category.

"We think more people should be aware of these lunches," he says, and Mrs. Conn adds tartly that the lunches are NOT charity.

"We are paying for them with our taxes," she says.

The noon-hour lunches are served five days a week, Mondays through Fridays, at Mt. Pisgah. They are free, but you're asked to contribute 50 cents if you can afford it. You are given an envelope when you go into the church, and nobody knows whether you put a fifty-cent piece into the envelope, or quietly leave it empty.

The hot meal, with meat and a couple of vegetables, perhaps sweet potato or white potato, a dessert and coffee or tea, is catered for Mercer County by ARA, the food supply organization based at The Pennington School. Milk is served, too, and usually people drink tea or coffee for lunch, and take the milk carton home.

At these lunches, once a month, there is a stack of "The Experienced Citizen -- The Voice of New Jersey's Older Persons" published out

A Compromise Budget, Pleasing No One, Passed, 5-2, by School Board Tuesday Night

First it was attacked for being too skimpy. Then it was criticized for being top-heavy with unnecessary expenditures. After being battered from all sides at a two-hour public hearing Tuesday night, the proposed 1976-'77 school budget was finally adopted by a 5-2 vote of the Princeton Regional School Board.

The budget, which calls for total expenditures of $8,071,800, a reduction of $135,200 from this year's level, will be voted upon March 2. Judging from the gloom shown by some school officials Tuesday night, it might as well be thrown to the lions.

"Speaking for the staff, we're not convinced we have seen the worst yet," said Superintendent Philip McPherson in response to criticism from the floor that the school had sacrificed too many services to keep the budget as low as it did.

Citing the shift in tax burden from the Township to the Borough as a result of the state's thorough and efficient education law, and the resulting increases in taxes for Borough homeowners, Dr. McPherson added: "If I were betting money on it, I wouldn't bet on this budget passing."

Because of the new method of determining school support, Borough taxpayers would experience nearly a 69-cent increase in their tax rate, while Township taxpayers would enjoy a decrease of about 5½ cents. For a house in the Borough with a market value of $50,000, the increase would be about $300. The same house in the Township would be taxed about $50 less.

The school board's problem, of course, has been that state aid, which this year totalled $771,000, simply will not be forthcoming next year. Moreover, the board learned only in recent weeks that the district may now be required to pay 25 percent of its teacher pensions, or $194,600, an amount formerly paid by the state.

The Lesser Evil? Trying to cover that anticipated decrease in revenue without raising the total tax requirement is what caused the heavy reductions in staff and services proposed in this budget.

The Board stressed that the document represents the least of several possible evils. Board President Winthrop Pike seemed to agree -- for once -- with Superintendent McPherson that this was a bare minimum, but still adequate budget. He pointed out several times that an earlier contingency budget the board had considered called for an even lower level of expenditures and that this budget, with an average expenditure of about $2,400 per student, was still well above the state average.

"I don't think we have too much to be ashamed of here in Princeton," assured Mr. Pike.

Still, some people wanted more. And others wanted less.

Budget Excesses? Board member Robin Wallack was one of the latter. In casting her negative vote, she criticized Dr. McPherson for his "apparent reluctance to identify budget excesses." She said she had submitted a list of reductions to the board at a meeting a week before that totalled about $100,000.

Mr. McPherson argued that about 70 percent of those reductions would have been illegal or in violation of existing contracts.

Judith Getis also voted no. "It's easy to say that we should add money here or there," she said. "But since the budget was defeated last year, holding the line on this budget was uppermost in the board's mind." Mrs. Getis said the total expenditure was also about as low as the board could go. Her argument was with the way the final $200,000 was cut from the budget.

The brightest moment of the hearing, at least from the point of view of the budget, came when the board relayed a message it had received from Borough Councilman Murray Medvin. Unable to attend the meeting because of illness, Mr. Medvin was quoted as saying that despite his past criticism of the board,

CRASH CLAIMS LIFE

Of 7-Year Old Girl. A seven-year old Lawrence Township girl was fatally injured and three other persons were hurt when two cars collided shortly before 1 Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Rosedale and Province Line Roads.

The victim, Miriam Klenicki, 13 Stonaker Drive, died about an hour later of head injuries in Princeton Medical Center. Township police report that she had been thrown from the car driven by her father, Rabbi Leon Klenicki, 45.

Rabbi Klenicki was admitted to the medical center with fractured shoulder, fracture leg, rib injuries and a concussion. His son, Daniel, 8, was admitted with a fractured shoulder, multiple lacerations and head injuries. Both were later reported in satisfactory condition by a hospital spokesman.

Police identified the second driver as Mrs. Martha B. Moore, 44, of 21 Hun Road. She was treated for head injuries and released from the hospital.

The accident -- the first fatality in the Township this year -- is still under investigation by Ptl. John Clausen. Sgt. Anthony Nini, Township traffic safety officer, said Tuesday that police have not yet talked with either driver, although Mrs. Moore was scheduled to be interviewed this Wednesday.

When the police investigation is complete, Sgt. Nini said, the evidence will be presented to a Mercer County Grand Jury.

According to police, Mrs. Moore's station wagon was traveling on Rosedale Road, toward Carter Road. The Klenicki car was going north on Province Line and was reportedly turning on to Rosedale. The two cars collided near the middle of the intersection.

Mrs. Moore was alone in her car, police said.

Cyclist Felled by Door. The danger that all bicyclists fact -- the sudden opening of a car door -- caught up Monday afternoon with Barbara L. Zeitler, 13, of 50 Princeton Avenue, as she was riding in front of 20 Nassau.

A passenger in a car driven by Louis J. Ciabattoni of Trenton, opened the door on the right side and it struck the young cyclist, who was taken by ambulance to the Medical Center, where she was treated for contusions and abrasions of the left leg.

Mr. Ciabattoni was ticketed by Ptl. Peter Hanley with improper discharge of passengers.

FUND DRIVE BEGUN

To Aid Guatemala. An emergency relief fund has been set up here to raise money for urgently needed medical, surgical, hygienic and nutritional aid to victims of the recent earthquake in Guatemala.

All funds will go to the Behrhorst Clinic, one of the few large clinics left operative in Guatemala following the disastrous earthquake of Feb. 4. The Behrhorst Clinic administers to an Indian population of 200,000 in and around Chimaltenango and is acting as a central distribution point for supplies, emergency relief teams and emergency support groups in the Guatemalan highlands.

The clinic needs $100,000 to carry on its relief work with the victims, according to Dean of the Chapel Ernest Gordon, who is helping to direct the fund-raising effort on campus.

Collection stations have been set up on campus in Firestone Library, Freshman Commons and the Engineering Quadrangle. Dean Gordon has also designated the chapel collection of Sunday, February 11 for Guatemalan relief. Checks should be made out to the Guatemalan Relief Fund, c-o Princeton University Chapel.

Area residents may make contributions to any of the above or to the Behrhorst Clinic Foundation, c-o Donald Mackie, 566 Princeton-Kingston Rd., Princeton, N.J.

Senior Citizens

of Randolph Township. Statewide news of activities interesting to the elderly, pending legislation, news about state lotteries, a piece on the ethnic aspects of Bicentennial celebrations, an education section...all are covered in the publication.

Locally, there is "the orange sheet" called "The Special Communicator for Seniors" published by the Council of Community Services. It comes out twice a month and is devoted to local news and announcements.

Just a year ago, on Valentine's Day, 1975, the "Eager Elders" group was formed in Princeton under the sponsorship of the Recreation Department. Last fall, the group decided to formalize its name to the Princeton Senior Citizens Club. A constitution was drawn up and two months later, officers were elected: Edward Sweeney, president; Anne Dennen, vice-president; Alice Schannel, secretary and Mr. Conn, treasurer.

Formerly the controller of Robert University in Istanbul and for 23 years in a similar post at the American University in Cairo, Mr. Conn "always gets stuck with the treasurer's job," his wife says with a smile. She herself is a retired teacher of sociology and English for the non-English-speaking.

Occupations Varied. Lots of variety in the Senior Citizens Club membership. Mrs. Schannel was formerly the Borough's welfare officer. Mr. Sweeney has been active in local and county Democratic political life for over a generation.

Another member is a retired domestic. Still another was an office worker. Some are black, some are white. The oldest is 96. The youngest is 60 – the minimum age for joining. About 50 people belong – quite a jump from the nine members who started the group last year.

The Senior Citizens Club is directed by Denise King, paid member of the Recreation Department staff. But programs are planned by members themselves. Last September, they took a bus trip to the Poconos.

In the summer, they took advantage of free concerts for the elderly at the Garden State Arts Center. Squibb donated tickets to the Radio City Music Hall Easter Show. Members visited the B & B vineyards at Stockton and had a wine and cheese party.

"It's hard for some of them to climb aboard the bus," Ms. King says, "but there is never any hurry. We help and we wait, and they wouldn't for anything stay home just because it's hard to get around."

A Three-H Club. Nationally, the Gray Panthers are more political than the local group, focusing on health, housing and hunger, which they regard as the Big Three problems. Dr. Campbell urges action where it is needed, and she has been quoted as saying to younger people, "You'll lose your jobs if you demonstrate – we have already lost ours!"

Here in Princeton, Mr. Sweeney has drawn on his political savvy to urge the backing of legislation favorable to the elderly. A local elected official has embraced the elderly as his constituency.

In fact, the gray head has replaced motherhood and the flag as the political untouchable. There was almost a gasp of surprise at a recent budget hearing when someone in the audience suggested that there were other deserving groups in town besides senior citizens.

Stoutly and sincerely, most seniors reject what they call "ageism." They define "ageism" as being pressured to live in certain ways which are defined purely by age. Sitting in a rocking chair, for example, or even being shunted into groups set up solely for the elderly.

The 60-year-old minimum age in the Princeton Senior Citizens Club insures a number of members still in close touch with the working world and still in vigorous enough health to carry on a hearty social life.

Township School Board Candidates Tell Why They Seek Office

When the polls open for voting on Tuesday, March 2, the school budget and candidates for the school board, Township residents will choose one of three women vying for the single Township seat available on the board this year.

There is no contest in the Borough. Both board members up for re-election this year decided to run, and no one is challenging them. This is the third straight year that there has been no contest for Borough seats on the school board.

The Township candidates are Kay Mack, Rosalind Frisch and Gail Firestone. That is the order in which their names appear on the ballot, and the order in which they have outlined their views for TOWN TOPICS.

TOPICS
Of The Town

Kay Mack:
"Budget reductions require examination of the system as a whole. It's easy to lop off things you'd regret for 20 years."

Rosalind Frisch:
"I recommend defeat of the budget. Municipal officials will know how to handle it better than the school board; in fact, I myself know more about budgeting than the board.

Gail Firestone:
"I feel my influence has been instrumental in making changes toward a more active emphasis on basic skills and academic excellence."

KAY MACK

"School board meetings became nightmarish and I stopped going. They did not provide me with the kinds of information I needed -- if you know where to go, and I do, you can find out what you want to know.

"The community that was attending board meetings was simply a cheering section. I heard the planted questions. I saw that these people are simply professional board-watchers, tending to belong to 'somebody.' They were there to boo the enemy, pick up the contradictions, catch someone off guard...."

Reasons for Running. "I am running because I believe there is no reason why public education can't be good. People in Princeton don't quite believe that. They don't expect public schools to be as good as private ones. In Johnson Park, for example, many parents simply don't care what happens after fifth grade because they know their kids will go to independent schools.

"I do not see McPherson as an issue -- half the towns in New Jersey are trying to get rid of their superintendents!

"What's happening in Princeton schools isn't rigorous enough. People talk about 'relevance': You can be relevant and rigorous, too. People are concerned that their kids are sloppy and don't write well, for example, but they don't get any response to their frustrations and they aren't sure where the buck stops, they don't know where to go."

"The board must address this frustration and must see that it is REAL. The board needs to seek out new ways of going to the community -- not only public hearings, but neighborhood meetings, especially ones that involve teachers and staff.

"It is important for the community to do some of the board's work, as we recommended in the Long-Range planning report. But then you must respect the input! Not like the recommendations of the citizen committee on computers, which were totally ignored.

"Teachers and board, too, simply must come together. I think we've reached the end of the rainbow: the 'Extra Pay for Extra Services' is probably coming to an end, and privately, some teachers see this. Can we permit teachers to work half-time and remain eligible for pensions? Are sabbaticals realistic in times like these?

No Need to Abstain. "But I am very angry at people who say 'Go and attack your school board,' when they talk about the budget. The board must educate municipal officials like these. The board has stayed away from politics, but this has meant staying away from local government, and you just can't do this."

Mrs. Mack was a member of the citizens committee on Long Range Planning for the schools, has been president of two PTOs, on the board of the Middle School PTO, the boards of the League of Women Voters, the Princeton Nursery School, the Council of Community Services and the United Fund.

ROSALIND FRISCH

"I like to dig out facts and I see my role as a problem-solver. I've studied the school budget and budgeting in general, and I think I know more about the process than the present board.

"I recommend defeat of the budget, and institution of planned program budgeting, which some 35 school systems in the state are using, including Lawrenceville. This is a cost-benefit analysis method which managers say is really the only way to do it. Also, it uses citizen involvement and I care very much about this.

"For example, it is irresponsible to remove the entire reserve fund – although the board says there is $40,000 'somewhere.' I've been told by the State Department of Education's Department of Budget and Finance and the New Jersey School Boards Association that Princeton 'over-reacted' and that we could find ourselves short and without money to meet July and August expenses if there is delay at the state level. I think we should make REAL cuts in the budget, and put the $196,000 required for pensions in reserve, not just make a 2½ percent cut across the board to meet that $196,000.

"This is a key thing: fiscal leadership and responsibility." The budget has not been used as a way of setting priorities and it is not responsive to people's feelings about administrative cuts, or sabbaticals that don't seem to add anything to the system, or over-staffing in some areas.

Board Is Insular.

"The very real struggle in the Borough's tax situation isn't being addressed at all, and I think the board has simply insulated itself from the community. It is not responding to the concerns of the citizens on quality education as the underpinning of the school system.

"About a year ago, I began to see a change in the coalition of people attending board meetings. People who weren't talking to each other are doing so now. People who formerly opposed the administration now find they like diversity, they even are happy with kids in multi-age classes. People who supported the superintendent are less supportive now. The town is more together now, and not fighting the old struggle.

"McPherson? I remember believing him when he said he'd go if the board asked him to. I believe he's hurting himself as well as the town. The focus now is on the board-superintendent problem and not on what we're doing, and its the kids who are getting shafted.

"Many people are bothered by the attitude – 'Leave it to us. We're the professionals and we'll take care of education.' But in Princeton, many people have a great deal to give. Instead of Extra Pay for Extra Services, or paying outside consultants, we should build on volunteer resources in the community, turning to local institutions like ETS, or to people who are giants in their fields."

"The board must co-operate with the community to revitalize the school system, and the community must INSIST on this."

Mrs. Frisch has been in the PTOs at three levels: elementary, Middle School and High School. She is a self-styled "board watcher" and is currently head of the Johnson Park PTO.

GAIL FIRESTONE

"In my three years on the board, we have seen discipline restored in many areas, especially the high school; basic skills re-emphasized at all levels; 'accountability' now an often-used word. I believe my influence has been instrumental in these fields. My PhD in cognitive psychology means that I'm familiar with the language used in education circles, I know the questions to ask to obtain information before decision-making."

"I initiated the curriculum inventory designed to be the first stage in an articulated and co-ordinated curriculum. I'm concerned about the diverse background of children entering the Middle School from the various elementary schools, and the diversity at the Middle School from house to house. The high school then bears the brunt of this burden. Broad goals in elementary education, yes, but the means to achieve them have been at the decision of the individual principal, so that co-ordination has been by accident, not plan.

Achievements Listed.

"Testing at the fifth-grade level to ascertain what basic skills had been acquired before students entered the Middle School, was an idea I pushed for.

"I feel my influence has been instrumental in a change to more active emphasis on basic skills, academic excellence and accountability. I'm running again because I feel I can continue to pursue these concerns. At the beginning of my term, I was fighting upstream, because the board did not have these concerns.

"I initiated the goals study, getting community input on what the community wants. This will be required in the 'Thorough-and-Efficient' mandate and we anticipated it.

"T. & E. also requires in-service training. I would favor eliminating the Wednesday Program in favor of another kind of program, although I feel much better about the Program than I did. I'm concerned about its seeming lack of direct benefits to students.

"Although there is lack of confidence between board and superintendent, things get done regardless, because both board and superintendent realize their responsiblity to the kids. Theoretically, the board shouldn't have to administer the schools. But when the administration ignores board direction and community concerns, the board is forced into this role.

"The superintendent may hide behind professionalism and say 'I'm a professional and this is the way it should be done.' But he gives us no options or alternatives, and we must develop our own

Green Thumb Dilemma

I can't work out
In my front yard
Because the ground
Is frozen hard.
I can't work when
It starts to thaw
Because the mud
Will be too raw
So if I sit and
Wait and wait,
Then by and by
It's way too late!

Thoughts of spring, very probably soon to be relegated to the deep freeze once more, were rampant all this week. Temperature readings in the 60s were the equivalent of days in mid-April, and winter-weary Princetonians enjoyed it while they could Actually, the Man says the mild weather will continue into the weekend So will the daily chance of showers, whenever the warm air from the South and those cool Canadian imports run the risk of colliding. Officially, spring is still more than a month away, but no one can deny that we've had some of it already since none are provided, although the board would rather not do this. It is not solely a personality conflict. The board saw many deep educational concerns after the first administration of the board-superintendent evaluation questionnaire."

Dr. Firestone's doctorate is from Princeton University. She is running for her second board term.

POLICE DUTIES BEGIN

For Ptl. Sheehan. "She is no different from any member of this department. She will be assigned all duties other officers perform."

In making it clear that Ptl. Monica Sheehan would enjoy equal status and responsibility with all other members of his department, Chief Michael Carnevale annouoced Tuesday that Ptl. Sheehan, the first woman ever accepted by the State Police for municipal recruit training, was scheduled to begin her career this Wednesday evening as a member of Sgt. Thomas Michaud's 11 to 7 squad, along with Ptl. David Alston, Ptl. James Agins and Ptl. William Fitch.

Ptl. Sheehan will be assigned to foot patrol in the downtown business area in her first duty.

"I'm indeed satisfied with the reports I've received," commented Chief Carnevale about Officer Sheehan, who has just completed 11 weeks of training at the police academy in Sea Girt.

He reported that the 25-year-old Middlesex resident finished near the top of her class academically and "did exceptionally well in the physical part of her training and also in firearms training."

Chief Carnevale said that Ptl. Sheehan was the only female patrolman that he was aware of in Mercer County. Her "first" had warranted a story in the New York Times.

Another member of Patrolman Sheehan's 38-member class was Sue Tanicello, a female procter at Princeton University.

TO PAY OR NOT TO PAY

Student Fees on Agenda. The question of student fees, an agenda item as perennial as the school calendar, will be on the agenda for the regular meeting of the school board next Tuesday at 8 in Community Park. As a matter of fact, next year's calendar will be on the agenda, too.

It's the first calendar prepared under the new method adopted last year, a method which applies standard recess times regardless of religious holidays. Formal action isn't expected until the board has decided on a staff development program and early closings for parent conferences.

Even though Labor Day is late in 1976, the '76-'77 calendar still ends June 16, 1977. Christmas, New Year's and Martin Luther King's birthday are all Saturdays. Good Friday falls in the spring recess and the first two days of Passover occur during that recess also.

In the student fees proposal, the board will recommend that principals be allowed to approve fund-raising activities by student groups "since fund-raising can have educational value and contribute a sense of responsibility."

The basis of the student fee policy is that no student shall be excluded from any program because of inability to pay. The board "strongly encourages" application of this policy outside school, and by members of the community dealing with groups of students."

The policy doesn't mean that all activities must be free, but that fees will be waived for students who can't pay them. Also, the board wants fee-charging limited to activities for older students who can grasp the idea that not all people have access to equal economic resources.

In past years, student fee policies have generated keen community interest and criticism.

2 MERCHANTS ARRESTED

For Haodling Stoten Property. Two Princeton businessmen have been arrested after a three-month investigation by police involving the "fencing" of stolen items.

Arrested at 1:25 last Wednesday morning was Saul Davidow, 39, owner of the A&S Luncheonette, 86 Nassau Street. At 12:45 that afternoon, Frank J. Ferrara, 30, owner of the Princetoo Market, 44 Leigh Avenue, was arrested outside his store.

Davidow has been charged with possession of stolen property and the purchase of two weapons – a .38 caliber pistol and a .22 caliber pistol – without first obtaining a permit to purchase. Arraigned before Judge Philip Carchman, he was later released in $10,000 bail. He is scheduled to appear in Borough court March 3.

Ferrara has been charged with attempting to receive stolen merchandise in excess of $200. Police said a television set was involved. He is free in $1,000 bail, awaiting arraignment.

Police report that a television set and stereo components were found in the trunk of Davidow's car.

Their arrest is the culmination of an investigation conducted by Borough and Township detectives in co-operation of the Mercer County Organized Crime Strike Force, headed by Larry Leiser, Mercer County assistant prosecutor.

Chief Michael Carnevale reported that the A&S Luncheonette had been under investigation for a long period of time in connection with the fencing of stolen items. The store had been under surveillance, he said, for the past month by Detectives Timothy Huizing and Ronald Holliday and members of the County Organized Crime Task Force.

he felt it had done as well as it could do with this budget, considering the extraordinary financial problems faced this year.

No One Satisfied. The problem for the board and the budget would seem to be whether enough voters would agree with Mr. Medvin. Some in the Township will surely want more and better services for their children. Some in the Borough will surely want fewer taxes coming out of their pockets.

"The budget doesn't satisfy anyone," said Dietrich Meyerhotter. "That's part of the nature of compromise."

deck ($340), $30 from a wallet and a brown blanket ($10).

Police said that a small pane of glass had been broken to unlock a window. Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt investigated.

A portable color television set ($359) was stolen between 6 and 8:30 Thursday evening from a room in a boarding house at 184 Witherspoon Street. Entry was through an unlocked window.

During the weekend, a thief used an unlocked window to enter the garage at Turney Motors, 255 Nassau Street, and take approximately $400 worth of tools from a mechanic's box. A Township resident lost a citizens' band radio valued at $160 when his car, parked near the railway station on University Place, was broken into. Police said a window had been forced.

A window on the passenger's side was smashed between 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday to enter a car parked in the Trinity Church lot. The victim, a Township woman, lost $20 when her pocketbook lying on the front seat was taken.

Sunday morning, a black topcoat ($150) was stolen from a doctors' lounge on the main floor at the Princeton Medical Center.

Two bicycles were stolen in the Borough on Monday.

Between 6:30 and 7:40 p.m. an orange 10-speed Schwinn model was stolen while the owner was visiting a home on Pine Street, and earlier in the afternoon, a 5-speed Raleigh ($100) was taken from the driveway of a home on Mercer Street. It was unlocked.

Police said the owner inside the house had heard a car pull onto the gravel driveway but thought that it belonged to someone who lived there.

In the Township, George M. Engelbrecht, 145 Mansgrove, reported a 12-foot aluminum pram valued at $239 missing from a shed. It had been stored December 25, police said.

Taken from a pickup truck parked in the Lawrence Court Apartments lot last week was a 23-channel citizens' band radio (serial No. 380983) valued at $300 and an AM-F'M police monitor radio valued at $250. A vent window had been pried to unlock the door.

Police identified the owner as Jose G. Tunning of Lawrence Court Apartments.

The room of Gilbert H. Cole Jr. in 1922 Hall on the Princeton University campus was entered between 4 and 7 p.m. Saturday through an unlocked window.

Taken were two leather coats ($150), three record albums ($18), a bottle full of pennies and personal checks on the First National Bank.

JUVENILE CHARGED

With Shoplifting. A 15-year old Belle Mead juvenile has been charged with shoplifting on Sunday two shirts valued at $14 each from Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

He was later turned over to his parents, pending further action by juvenile authorities. The youth was apprehended near the Dairy Queen in the Shopping Center by Leslie Bennett and Rick Caporusso of Bamberger's security department. Police said that he had the shirts in his possession.

POLICE CHARGE DRIVER

With Delinquency Violation. James C. Colangelo, 20, of Hollow Road, Skillman, has been charged with contributing to the deliquency of minors by Ptl. Anthony Gaylord after the officer stopped his car on North Harrison Street last week near midnight for a routine check.

Inside, Ptl. Gaylord found five juveniles and a case of beer. The juveniles – three girls from Princeton and two boys, one from Princeton and one from Belle Mead – were turned over to the Township juvenile officer.

Colangelo was released in his own recognizance, pending his appearance in Township court.

HOUSE, CAR DAMAGED

By Vandals. Township police reported two cases of malicious damage last week.

At the home of Simone R. DeCavalcante, 1015 Mercer Road, vandals broke a storm door and three outside light fixtures with a combined value of $300. The damage was reported by Mrs. Aurora Sinatra.

Ronald C. Johnston, an employee of the Hun School, told police last week that someone had scratched several marks approximately 36 inches long on the rear fender of his car while it was parked for two days in a Hun School lot.

INTRUDER FLEES

When Wind Chimes Sound. Karen Koelrich was resting in another room in her apartment at 290 Witherspoon Street early Sunday evening when she heard her wooden wind chimes sound in the kitchen.

Investigating, she discovered a man wearing a dark fringe coat standing in the entry off the rear porch. She yelled and the suspect fled.

Police said that their investigation revealed that the intruder had entered a rear porch door and had attempted to enter the house. Ptl. John Hammond investigated.

Richard R. Spies

PROMOTION ANNOUNCED

For Dr. Richard Spies. Princeton University has announced the promotion of Assistant Provost Richard R. Spies, 30, to the post of associate provost, effective immediately. The announcement was made by Provost Albert Rees, the chief academic officer of the university and general deputy for the president.

Dr. Spies, a graduate of Amherst College who received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in economics from Princeton in 1972, is also a lecturer in economics. He has served as assistant provost since 1972 with responsibilities covering a wide range of functions performed by the Office of the Provost, but with special emphasis on budgeting and resource allocation. He previously was assistant to the provost in 1971-72 and a teaching assistant in 1969-70.

Dr. Spies serves as the executive secretary and chief staff person for the Priorities Committee, a faculty-student-administration committee charged with making recommendations to the president about the operating budget of the university. His primary responsibility to the committee is to assist in identifying the central issues involved in these budgets, and the trade-offs among them, in such diverse areas as tuition and student aid, faculty staffing, library budgets, and Princeton's energy conservation program.

Dr. Spies is married to the former Sandra Mosta of Rochester, N.Y., a vice-president of Opinion Research Corporation. They live at 148 Poe Road.

LECTURE PLANNED

On Human Potential and TM. Dr. Bruce P. Lester will give a lecture entitled "The Full Potential of Human Life" on Thursday, February 26, at 8 in Woodrow Wilson School, Room 6, Washington Road.

Dr. Lester is a former faculty member at Princeton University in the Department of Electrical Engineering. He recently returned from six months of "research on human consciousness" with scientists from all over the world at Maharishi European Research University in Switzerland.

He is a trained teacher of the TM technique and has studied with Maharishi Mahesh Yogi in Europe for 17 months. During the past several years he has lectured in Philadelphia, New York, and Boston. The lecture is free and sponsored by the International Meditation Society of Mercer County.

DOG LICENSES OVERDUE

In Township. Princeton Township dog owners who have not yet obtained their 1976 dog licenses are urged by the municipality to do so. Because the January 31st deadline has passed, a fine of $2 per month is now added to the $4 fee. The cost during February is $6, during March, $8.

The license may be obtained at Township Hall from 9 to 5 or by mail. A rabies vaccination certificate valid for at least 6 months is required.

FUND DRIVE TO BEGIN

By Planned Parenthood. Hoping to raise $100,000, Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area will begin it's Capital Fund Drive Thursday with a kickoff luncheon in Trenton.

Mrs. Alden S. Blodget, Jr. of Princeton, a PPAMA Board Member, chairman of the Fund Drive explained that the money will pay for the renovation expenses of a new home, and is over and above the amount raised annually to keep the center operating.

Planned Parenthood, which provides family planning medical services to women of childbearing age who are primarily of low and marginal incomes, moved in late December to a new location in Trenton.

"For several years," explains Mrs. Anita Leone, Presideot of the Board of Trustees, "we were renting space that was inadequate for the number of patients we were serving. More space was essential if we were to provide quality family planning services."

Two-Year Search. For almost two years PPAMA, a non-profit organization, looked for a place it could afford to rent or buy. In the Spring of 1975 the search ended when a company, that prefers to remain anonymous, was approached regarding its vacant and badly vandalized building at 437 E. State Street. The company decided to sell the building to Planned Parenthood for $10 if PPAMA would pay $25,000 in back taxes.

Although the building is only 15 years old, the cost of repairing the vandalized building and renovating the once open office space to an ultra modern health facility cost slightly more than $100,000. The transformation was designed by the Princeton Architectural firm of Geddes, Brecher, Qualls and Cunningham, and carried out by the Schulz Construction Company in Trenton.

"We were very excited about the chance to have our own building, but knowing we would have to raise $125,000 made the decision a sober one," commented Mrs. Leone. "The Cape Branch Foundation helped us make that decision when they generously contributed more than enough to cover the back taxes."

Another contribution was land adjacent to the building which was donated for parking. PPAMA receives federal and state funds for direct service only so that all monies for the building had to come from private sources.

Many Princeton names such as Mr. Roger Kirkpatrick, Mr. James Kerney, Mrs. Charles Biddle, and Mr. Amos Eno are among those soliciting for the Fund Drive. Princeton names are also prominent on the list of Board members which is not surprising as PPAMA was started in 1933 by a group of women from Princeton and for many years was staffed by volunteers mostly from this town. And, it has been supported since it's inception primarily by contributions from Princetonians.

During the Capital Fund Drive, personal appeals will be made to individuals, corporations and foundations. Anyone who wishes may send a contribution to: PPAMA Capital Fund, 437 E. State Street, Trenton, N.J. 08608.

"We want to make clear," states Mrs. Blodget, "that this is a special fund drive to pay for the new building. Our annual fund drive, conducted primarily by mail, will begin soon.

FUND-RAISERS: Mrs. Alden S. Blodget and Roger B. Kirkpatrick are active in the Planned Parenthood Capital Fund drive. Story, this page.

McCarter's Current Offering, "The Heiress," "A Production Absolutely Not to Be Missed"

In "The Heiress," which opened in Princeton last Thursday, the McCarter Theatre Company has a work of dramatic literature worthy of its impressive talents, and the result is a production absolutely not to be missed: intensely alive, moving, amusing, handsome to look at, literate to listen to; beatifully cast, acted and directed; and containing two memorable major performances. It continues through the coming weekend, and if ever a production deserved to be held over, or exported elsewhere, this is it.

Henry James thought so little of his story, "Washington Square," written in 1880 and serialized in English and American magazines, that he omitted it from the "definitive edition" of his work published 27 years later. But if its simple structure and melodramatic climaxes left James cool, they gave Playwrights Ruth and Augustus Goetz the ingredients of a highly effective, if at times melodramatic, 1947 Broadway drama. And the characters are far from simply structured.

(Why, by the way, does the program say that this play by the Goetzes was "suggested" by "Washington Square?" That seems niggardly credit to the story that provided "The Heiress" with its characters, its plot and much of its dialogue!)

IN McCARTER CAST: Maria Tucci as Catherine Sloper and Richard Backus as Morris Townsend in play McCarter Theatre Company is now showing. (Cliff Moore Photo)

Company "Near Perfection." Many theatergoers by now have seen "The Heiress" on stage or screen and are familiar with its plot of jilt and counterjilt. But like any first-rate play it gains in interest with each new viewing; the excitement is in seeing how it is done; and the company assembled and directed here by Michael Kahn, McCarter's Producing Director, does it to near perfection.

Jack Gwillim and Maria Tucci share highest acting honors as handsome, icily charming Dr. Sloper and his plain, unclever daughter Catherine, whom he blames and subtly punishes-- with undercutting irony and condescension-- for the death of her beautiful mother in bearing her 20-odd years ago. Each instant of their performances is electric with characterization and excitement.

News Of The THEATRES

Richard Backus as Morris Townsend, the impoverished young man-of-the-world with expensive tastes who would marry Catherine for her money, seemed less perfectly cast-- insufficiently world-weary, not formidable enough to compete in the Sloper league-- but he is an intelligent, attractive actor and gives Morris a poignancy that has its values.

As Dr. Sloper's widowed sister Lavinia, who lives with the Slopers in their fine Washington Square house, Kate Wilkinson is superb: everybody's dotty confidante, who appeases her own love-hunger by pushing the Catherine-Morris romance. Sarah Peterson is excellent as Morris's spunky widowed sister whom Dr. Sloper calls in to interrogate about Morris's character when he suspects that his daughter is being hustled for the fortune he will bequeath her. The play is built of crackling confrontation scenes and this is one of them.

Anne Sheldon in Cast. Lesser but interesting roles are well played by Sarah-Jane Gwillim, Anne Sheldon, Marshall Shnider and Kristin Paulus. The elegant 1850 setting by David Jenkins provides just the kind of rich good taste that might turn a young fortune hunter's head. The costumes by Jane Greenwood are not only a delight to the eye but shed light on characters and story. And L. B. Achziger deserves credit for light literally shed on all of this.

Like all good plays, "The Heiress" draws its strength from the strong hungers of its central characters: Dr. Sloper's hunger for his beautiful wife, which has curdled into a hunger for vengeance against his unbeautiful daughter; Catherine's consequent hunger for a man's love, which finally curdles into a hunger for vengeance first against her father for breaking up her romance, and then against Morris for jilting her. Somehow Morris's hunger for the good things of life-- fine cigars, brandy, chamois gloves-- comes through in this production as mere appetite, perhaps beeause Morris himself seems too weak to host strong hunger.

No one Pigeonholed. It is one of the play's fascinations that none of these characters falls neatly into a pigeonhole. Sloper, though cold to his daughter, is a dedicated medical man who helps the poor and risks his life to make a house call. And if his efforts to save Catherine from a bad marriage are misguided and meanly motivated they are not irrational of pointless. And, as Gwillim plays him, he is blessedly witty.

If Catherine comes on as soft, shy, and vulnerable, her behavior in the play's final scenes suggest that she had in her all along some of her father's capacity for meanness. Would it have come out if she had not been jilted? James has written a character who not only unfolds but evolves before our eyes, and Maria Tucci plays her with sensitiveness and strength, brilliantly.

And if it is clear that villain-victim Morris wants Catherine's money, it is not equally clear that, given the money, he might not have made her a good and affectionate husband. At least we are permitted to wonder.

Thus the play raises intriguing questions about

Patti Smith. "The wild mustang of American rock" – that's the Village Voice. "Destined to be the queen of rock n' roll for the 70s" – that's Rolling Stone. "Buy tickets now," -- that's McCarter Theatre.

The performer is Patti Smith who will open the winter-spring pop season at Alexander Hall on Saturday, March 20. Two shows: 8 and 10:30 p.m. Tickets from the McCarter box-office.

NO SEX?

No Sex. "Lysistrata," Aristophanes' comedy about the Greek women who hope to stop a war by organizing a strike against sex will open this Thursday at Murray Theatre under the aegis of Theatre Intime, and will play this weekend and next, Sundays excluded. Curtain-time is 8:30.

Kathy Mendeloff, senior at Princeton University, is directing and Intime promises a "brash, bold and bawdy" presentation of the comedy. There will also be new music, composed by Robert Cohen, another Princeton senior, and played by a seven-piece ensemble. Lyrics and book, says Intime (book? What about Aristophanes?) are the work of Bruce Green, University junior.

The title role will be played by Alice Eve Cohen, Princeton senior, who will be remembered in Intime's "The Caucasian Chalk Circle" (she was the Story Teller). Kinesias will be portrayed by William Clark, freshman, who played in "The Private Ear" last fall.

Others in the cast are new to Intime's roster. They are Barbara Schottenfeld as Myrrhine and Clayton Platt as The General. Both actors are sophomores.

"AS YOU LIKE IT"

Friday at Stuart. The Drama and Glee clubs of Stuart Country Day School will present Shakespeare's comedy "As You Like It" in the Stuart Little Theatre Friday at 8. The play is directed by Sister Dorothy Holmes, Middle School Drama advisor.

Gretchen Good will portray Rosalind, Ann Carlson will be Orlando, Libby Gray will be Celia and Mary Ann Callahan will be Touchstone. The Middle School Glee Club will entertain with songs written by Shakespeare.

ONE OF '75'S 10 BEST

"Distant Thunder" Here Tuesday. Satyajit Ray's "Distant Thunder," a film all but ignored during its 1973 American premiere and finally discovered last fall to unanimous critical acclaim and a place on many of 1975's "Ten Best" lists, will have its Princeton premiere on Tuesday in 10 McCosh Hall as part of the Movies-at-McCarter series. There will be three showings at 7, 9, and 11 p.m.

"Distant Thunder" is set in 1942 against the background of World War II and the great Bengali famine which wiped out five million Indians. The war is a far-off phenomenon to the citizens of a remote Bengali village, who do not understand what a war is. Yet, even this community finally comes to feel the war's reverberations as the price of rice escalates and people weaken into antagonism and betrayal under the growing pressure of famine.

Tickets for the film will be available at the McCarter box office and at 10 McCosh Hall prior to each showing.

PLAYHOUSE

The Sunshine Boys. Neil Simon's Broadway comedy hit about a pair of elderly vaudevillains who are coaxed out of retirement for a glossy TV special and proceed to reignite the jucier moments of their career-long feud has been brought to the screen, starring Walter Matthau and George Burns.

They are superb as the two antagonists who never lapse far enough into senility to forget the sheer pleasure of needling one another into utter exasperation. Matthau fans will especially enjoy the action, as he dominates the film version.

Matthau plays Willy Clark, the more volatile half by far of "Lewis & Clark," a famous comedy act that broke up 12 years earlier when Al Lewis (Burns) decided to go ioto retirement, leaving Matthau to build up a stock of resentment that can provoke strokes at the mentioo of Burns' name. The two are brought together by Matthau's eager agent-nephew, who has done everything possible to find the old man some work, as part of a TV special on American comedy. Reluctantly, they agree to pull their famous "doctors routine" out of mothballs.

From the start they are at each others' throats. Matthau rejoices in throwing off his partner's timing by introducing new lines. Burns brings Matthau to near violence by emphasizing his

GUITARIST TO PLAY

Alice Artzt In Concert. Westminster Choir College will sponsor a concert by Alice Artzt, classic guitarist, at its Bristol Chapel Friday at 8. Admission is $3.

A Princeton resident, Miss Artzt made her debut in London in 1969. After studying the piano and flute, she turned to the classic guitar at the age of 13.

Since her debut, Miss Artzt has toured Europe eight times, and performed throughout North America. She has also made yearly tours to South and Central America and Mexico, Africa, the Near East, much of Asia, and has made two trips to the Far East.

Her solo programs include a wide range of styles from Renaissance and Baroque lute music, which she studies from the original tablatures, to contemporary compositions. She has appeared as soloist with orchestras, including the Vienna Symphony, and has recorded two albums for Gemini Records of England. Miss Artzt has also just finished an L.P. for Klavier Records, and currently performs at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

CLASSIC GUITARIST: Alice Artzt of Princeton will give a concert sponsored by preparatory division of Westminster Choir College Friday at 8 in Bristol Chapel.

RECITAL SCHEDULED

For Violin and Piano. Geoffrey Michaels, violinist, and Barbara Blegen, pianist, will give a recital Friday, February 20, at 8:30 in Woolworth Center. The program will consist of violin and viola sonatas of Mozart, Brahms and Grieg.

Mr. Michaels was born in Western Australia, started to play the violin at 5, and at 14 won the Australian Broadcasting Commission's national Concerto Competition. In 1961 he was awarded a scholarship to the Curtis Institute and studied there with Efrem Zimbalist.

In addition to winning many awards and appearing with orchestras the world over, Mr. Michaels made concert tours in his native country, the U.S., Finland, Russia, Israel, London and Paris. Of his performance of the Bartok Sonata for Solo Violin, the London Times' critic wrote: "...this, in fact, was among the best performances I have heard."

Mr. Michaels was heard in Princeton on the Department of Music Chamber Concerts series a number of years ago. He is currently teaching violin, viola and chamber music at the University.

The concert is sponsored by The Friends of Music and is open to the public, admission free.

SOPRANO IN CONCERT

At Woolworth Center. Julia Schechtman, coloratura soprano, will give a concert on Saturday, February 21, at 8:30 in Woolworth Center, accompanied by her father, Saul Schechtman, pianist.

A junior at Princeton, Miss Schechtman has been studying voice for ten years. Miss Schechtman has been soloist with the Chapel Choir for two years and has performed at churches in New Jersey, Maryland and in Europe. She gave a highly successful recital in Princeton last spring. Miss Schechtman is majoring in English and is a University scholar.

For her program, she will perform "The Mad Scene" lines with a series of pokes into the shoulder and by his habit of liquifying his words so that Matthau gets spritzed in the eye with every "T".

Schub Exhibits Rare Combination of Qualities In Dazzling Performance at McCarter Theatre

Andre-Michel Schub is an impressive musician, a compelling performer, and a dazzling virtuoso. This combination of qualities is as exciting as it is rare.

All too often virtuosi luxuriate in their technique without using it as a tool, and a powerful one at that, with which to communicate music.

This was not the case when Schub performed at McCarter Theatre last Monday evening in the Princeton University concert series. Even at his moments of greatest abandon and fantastic flourish, his technique was at the service of his interpretation of the music.

His interpretations stretched and shaped the musical ideas with care. The only feature this listener was not always satisfied with, was the liberty taken with rhythm, especially in the Chopin "Scherzo, No. 4 in E major, Opus 54." However, that these choices had been made with forethought was apparent.

Romantic Approach. Schub's program and musical approach were both romantic. Even the one contemporary work, Christine Berle's "Elegy" (1974), did not depart from this vein. The Mendelssohn "Fantasy in F-Sharp minor, Opus 28," which opened the program, offered Schub a wide latitude with which to express his romantic approach.

The first of the three movements features flashy arpeggios that span the keyboard and alternate with more lyric interludes. The other two movements, particularly the last, are more consistently demanding technically. The piece is aptly titled a fantasy as Mendelssohn has roamed through rather than cautiously planned his musical materials. Schub is clearly at home with this work.

The Chopin "Scherzo No. 4" and the Chopin "Fantasy in F minor, Opus 49," though both well done, were overshadowed by the sheer bravura of Schub's performance of selections from Liszt's Annees de Pelerinage, Book II. Again the rhythmic distortion, especially of the first selection, "Sposalizio," was disturbing. However, the dynamic shadings and pacing of the whole came off well. The "Sonetto 104 Del Petrarca," which sounds as though it begins in the middle, was also handled well. However, the last of the group, "Apres une Lecture de Dante, Fantasia quasi Sonata," was the high point.

This piece, with its recurrent tritone motif, explores, extends, and embraces the length and breadth of the keyboard. There is a joy in speed, but the small number of different motifs keeps the music from becoming overladen.

The performance of the Brahms' "Variations and Fugue on a Theme of Handel, Opus 24," was on as high a level as the Liszt. The Brahms is a much subtler work, and draws upon more varied talents on the part of the performer.

Schub was up to the challenge. Indeed he was prepared for more, as demonstrated by the two Paganini-Liszt Etudes he performed as encores. Schub is a performer to remember and to look for.

GOSPEL ROCK SUNDAY

In Alexander Hall. The C.S. Lewis Society will present Petra, a gospel rock group as the first in its New Creature Concerts series on Sunday, February 22, at 8 in Alexander Hall. Currently on tour, Petra has one album out on the Myrrh label.

A very diverse band, Petra plays many different styles of rock from blue grass and southern rockers to hard rock, upbeat jazz, Latin American music, heavy blues and 50's rock. Tickets are priced at $2 and will be sold at the door.

ORGANIST TO PLAY

Concert in Chapel. Peter Shull, Jr., a senior at Princeton and University organist, will give a concert Sunday, February 29, at 7 in the University Chapel. A student of Carl Weinrich who regularly plays the epilogue at the Sunday chapel services, he will play an all-Bach program.

Included will be the "Prelude and Fugue in G minor," "Nun komm, der Heiden Heiland," "Fugue in G minor," "Der Tag, der istso freudenreich," "Toccata in D minor," "Wachet auf, ruft uns die Stimme," "Toccata in C major–Adagio," "Ich ruf' zu dir, Herr Jesu Christ," "Toccata in D minor," "Nun komm' der Heiden Heiland" and "Concerto in A minor." The concert is free and open to the public.

JAZZ-ROCK BAND

At Inn College Coffeehouse. Continuing its Thursday night music series, the Princeton Inn College Coffeehouse will present Modulus, an electric jazz-rock band on Thursday from 9:30 to midnight.

The band has been together for over a year. In the last four months the cello has been introduced to their sounds, musically versatile instrument in the jazz-rock idiom. The group's style embraces the improvisatory aspects of the era.

With a composer in the group, band members write and perform all original music. Although much of the music can be danced to, it is written primarily as a listening experience.

The public is invited to enjoy the music and refreshments.

He is also a violist and harpsichordist and is a member of the Princeton University Glee Club. Sunday's concert will mark his fifth recital in Princeton. Mr. Newberg studies piano with Martin Canin in New York.

Oliver S. Plantinga, who died in 1972, was a long-time resident of Princeton, an excellent amateur pianist and a supporter of the arts. His widow has endowed a series of concerts under the aegis of the Friends of Music so that his enjoyment and love of fine music may be shared by his friends and neighbors as well as by succeeding generations. The concert is open to the public, admission free.

CONCERT SCHEDULED

By Youth Orchestra. The Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra conducted by Dr. Matteo Giammario will give a Bicentennial concert Wednesday, February 25, at 8 at the Kirby Arts Center. It will be repeated Sunday, February 29, at 3 at the John Witherspoon School.

Seven area residents are among the 71 members of the orchestra which meets each Tuesday evening to rehearse at the Lawrenceville School. They include Carol Brown, a Princeton University graduate student; Rachel Abelson of Princeton Day School; Peter Florey and Barbara Thompson of Princeton High School; Katrina Jones of Stuart School; and Sue Greco and Jocelyn Kalajian of Plainsboro High School.

The program features American composers: Harris, "Night Piece;" Copland, "Billy the Kid;" and Grofe, "Grand Canyon Suite." It will be repeated Sunday, February 29 at 3 in the John Witherspoon School. No admission will be charged.

Concerts are made possible through a grant from the New Jersey Council on the Arts in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Arts, Music Performance Trust Fund, American Federation of Musicians, Local 62, of Trenton and The Mercer County Park Commission. The public is invited.

The public is invited to the free concerts.

RECITAL MONDAY

By Westminster Faculty. Westminster Choir College will present a faculty recital with Elaine Banks, cellist; Harriet Chase, pianist; Dorothy Kovacs, flautist; and Joseph Kovacs, violinist, Monday at 8 in the campus Playhouse. The program will consist of music by Loeillet, Couperin, Haydn, Ibert, Schumann and Ravel. Admission is free.

Elaine Banks is currently a graduate assistant in the Department of Choral Activities at the college. Harriet Chase is Associate Professor in the Theory and Music History Department, as is Dorothy Kovacs. Joseph Kovacs is a former Westminster faculty member who is now at Douglass College of Rutgers University, conducts the Collegium Musicum of Princeton, and is a member of the Princeton Symphony.

CONCERT TUESDAY

At Choir College. Westminster Choir College will present a concert of music by Pinkham, Corelli, Purcell, Mozart, Martin and Polenc, performed by James Litton, with the Collegium Musicum of Princeton, on Tuesday, at 8 at the College's Bristol Chapel. Admission is free.

Mr. Litton, presently Assistant Professor of Church Music at the college, holds both the bachelor of music degree in organ, and the master of music degree in organ and conducting from the college. He has worked with Allen Wicks at Canterbury Cathedral, Canterbury, England, and is also organist and choirmaster at Trinity Church in Princeton.

The Collegium Musicum of Princeton is made up of professional and student musicians from the Princeton area. The chamber orchestra has been the resident orchestra for the Trinity-All Saints' Series of Concerts and Musical Services, and has played in area colleges and universities.

Children from the area and across the country who are enrolled in this program are not taking piano lessons; they are preparing to take piano lessons.

In addition, a class of 8 year olds, who began formal piano lessons in January, will demonstrate various activities from their class lessons and from their practice at home.

The American Medical Association, the experts say, is interested in the improvement of medical products for the use of the medical profession. It is also actively engaged in protecting the public as well as the medical profession against improper advertising of medical products. Several committees of the association carry out these protective functions. The results of the work of the various councils are most significant in protecting consumer health, and, in turn, advancing the expertise of all involved with drugs, medicines, and cures for human diseases.

Let's Look at the Record.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

When information which differs from the known record has been given to the press in a matter of public concern, such as the Princeton Township Committee vacancy (TOWN TOPICS, Feb. 12), surely someone has an obligation to allow that record to speak for itself.

A sheaf of legal documents (complaints, orders, notices, and judgments) in the Oakland, Bergen County, election failure – which was almost identical to ours – has been and is still on file in Township Hall, available for examination upon request. Copies of the pertinent pages are enclosed. They take issue with several points made by the source for TOWN TOPICS' recent story.

By way of distinguishing Oakland's case from Princeton Township's, that source reported that in Oakland "the county clerk never certified the election nor did election officials in the district," but that in Princeton the "District 12 officials did certify the results." In fact, the record shows that the Oakland Borough Clerk was named a defendant in the civil suit, since "she is in charge of... certifying the election," and in a later complaint demand was made that "Certification of the Clerk of the Borough of Oakland awarding said Election... be declared null and void" (Complaint, Nov. 7, 1975, p. 2; Verified Complaint, filed Dec. 9, 2nd and 3rd Counts).

"That means," said TOWN TOPICS' source referring to the lack of certification, "that in North Bergen it wasn't a question of setting an election aside, but merely of asking, 'What do we do now?'" From the beginning of court proceedings in the Oakland case, the Complaint of Nov. 7, the Judge's Show Cause Order of Nov. 10, and the Verified Complaint filed Dec. 9 all specify requests that the election of Nov. 4 "be declared null and void" and "the date, terms and conditions for a new election" be set.

On Nov. 26 notice was issued of a hearing called "to determine the nature of a special election," and the entire process culminated in the Judge's Orders of Dec. 17 directing that the earlier "election between the two candidates be set aside" and that a new special election be held at county expense. This of course assigns the burden to a much broader tax base than that of the municipal tax and affirms the county's responsibility for the voting machines.

Movie Prices Too High.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

As a high school student, I've enjoyed many evenings watching movies at what is now titled the Eric Playhouse in Princeton. Because of my age, transportation was a problem so it was very convenient to see a movie in town and then walk to a nearby restaurant for a soda.

The theatres in town were a good place to go with a group of friends while not worrying too much about expenses. It felt good to have a theatre nearby with such a warm atmosphere.

In the past months, a great change has been made in our Princeton theatres. This has been obvious by the open dismay shown by area residents. Commerciality has taken over, and no longer do we have the usual warmth and friendly atmosphere at our movie theatres.

Even if this atmosphere did exist, the prices have grown so high that only those students that could afford to spend such a fortune would attend. If we wanted to be so extravagant, I'm beginning to believe that a trip into the city would be a better run for nearly the same amount of money as an evening in the Sameric Theatres.

What has happened to the "Friday night at the movies" era? Perhaps now it is just a bit more of Princeton history for us to reminisce about.

University Questioned.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of an open letter the Princeton Housing Group has sent to Princeton University President William G. Bowen:

We are writing on behalf of The Princeton Housing Group which is comprised of Princeton University alumni and Princeton residents. Our purpose in doing so is to learn 1) how the University intends to carry out its 1971 commitment by former President Robert F. Goheen, and 2) how it plans to help local government in solving the area housing problem. On May 11, 1971, Mr. Goheen stated:

"Princeton University is interested in cooperating...with the Regional Planning Board of Princeton as the Board moves toward its newly announced priority objectives for 1971 – namely, middle- and low-income housing...

"The University is now prepared to seek to bring about on land which it owns the construction of 1,500 units of low- and middle-income housing to be available to the general public..."

Citing a study by James D. Landauer Associates, Inc., New York, commissioned by the University, Mr. Goheen said the Landauer report "indicates there is a current shortage of 4,500 units of low- and middle-income housing in the four communities (Princeton Borough, Princeton Township, West Windsor and Plainsboro) in which the University has its campus."

Then Mr. Goheen asserted: "According to the Landauer study, the portion of this shortage attributable to institutional and municipal employers...is 1,500 units, the target toward which the University's housing activities would be directed over a period of years."

At this point it is not clear to members of The Princeton Housing Group where the University stands on the growing need for more housing units in the four communities mentioned by Mr. Goheen.

To illustrate, in the Princeton Weekly Bulletin for the second week in December, 1975, Mr. John P. Moran, Vice President for Facilities, put the University's role "in perspective." The information contained in that article raised more questions than it answered. For example, when asked if he saw "any solutions to the housing shortage in Princeton," Mr. Moran replied:

"The question...is exceedingly difficult to answer...As the surrounding communities improve their school systems and municipal services...the pressure on Princeton as 'the' place to live should lessen.

"Many University employees now live in these surrounding communities and find them very satisfactory. I don't see a solution to the local problem by increasing Princeton University's internal housing supply..."

All of which inevitably prompts us to ask: what has become of the University's 1971 commitment to construct 1,500 housing units?

Also, in view of the fact that the Regional Planning Board of Princeton is currently preparing a housing program for 5,700 units with a goal of 45 percent subsidized, it is important to know in what way the University intends to participate in the Board's program. As you have heard, the study is based on a Real Estate Research Corp. report not yet released to the public and is at present being written by Mrs. Golda Gottlieb, a member of the Board's Committee on Housing.

Enclosed is a copy of a report on "Community-University Housing and Relations" recently published by Educational Facilities Laboratories, New York. The author is Richard Sobel, a member of The Princeton Housing Group and a member of the Class of 1971.

While the main thrust of the report concerns Cambridge, Mass. and action taken by Harvard and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (a brief section discusses Princeton), it indicates that municipal governing bodies are simply unable to cope with housing problems in university communities without the cooperation of the particular universities involved. Such a truism is certainly applicable to Princeton.

We recognize the University's contribution to Princeton Community Housing (PCH) project, its provision of a large amount of university housing, and its commitment for 20 percent subsidized units at the Forrestal Center. However, we also recognize that the local housing problems, and the University's contribution to these problems, are much larger.

To clarify the position of the University on the issues raised in this letter, we would appreciate a written response to our concerns. In the future, perhaps, we could meet at a convenient time for you. We look forward to hearing from you.

Editor's Note: The letter was signed by J. Rees Toothman, S.L. Naeole, Martin P. Lombardo, Richard Sobel and Robert Hosford, and an address of 20 Hamilton Avenue (Sharon L. Naeole's residence) was given for the Princeton Housing Group.

PROJECT THEFT-GUARD

All valuables on these premises have been engraved so that law enforcement agencies can readily identify them.

Cases of Breaking and Entering Increase Sharply in Princeton– Identification of Valuables Urged as Simple Form of Protection

Breaking and entering and thefts are increasing sharply not only in Princeton, as the figures released this year report emphatically, but everywhere. However, if you live in Princeton, there is something you can do to help protect your home and valuables.

Project Theft-Guard, organized in July, 1972, by the town's two police departments and sponsored by seven independent insurance agencies in Princeton, is available to you. It is a simple—and effective—process.

Police at either department will lend electric engravers free of charge to any Princeton resident. They can be used on metal, wood, plastic and other materials.

Use the engraver to record your driver's license number on all valuables kept in your home or office, such as radios, tape recorders, television sets, stereo components, cameras, jewelry and silverware. At the same time, list such articles on a property inventory sheet provided by the police. When the engraver is returned, you receive decals (illustrated above) to attach to the outer doors of your home.

Operation Theft-Guard obviously does not guarantee a home against burglars, but it does discourage theft for two reasons: (1) "fences" who buy and sell stolen good do not like to deal with merchandise that can readily be identified; and (2) thieves are not eager to be caught with property in their possession that can easily be proved to belong to someone else. In addition, stolen property that has been recovered can be immediately returned to the rightful owner.

Throughout the country wherever this program has been introduced, statistics reveal there was a drop in crime in the community. Both Chief Frederick Porter of the Township and Borough Chief Michael Carnevale are strong supporters of the program and urge residents to take advantage of it.

BUSINESS In Princeton

THORNE'S TO MOVE

Next to Cox's. The Thorne Pharmacy, which has occupied the same premises at 168 Nassau Street for nearly 50 years, will move on March 1 to 180 Nassau Street, next to Cox's Store. A raise in rent "which we couldn't live with" is the reason for the relocation, according to Everett Campbell, proprietor.

Mr. Campbell, who has been associated with the pharmacy for 27 years, says he regrets the move but adds that in the new location he will be able to have "a smaller, streamlined operation, more related to pharmaceutical needs. We won't be able to carry the cosmetics and the luxury items we were known for, but the prescription department will be even more noticeable than it has been at 168 Nassau."

Edward A. Thorne opened the store, which was known as Thorne's Pharmacy, in 1927. For a time he operated a second pharmacy at 44 Nassau Street, having bought Briner's Drugstore near the old Nassau Inn, at the corner of John Street where part of LaVake's now is. Mr. Thorne died in 1955, and in 1958 Mr. Campbell and Paul Ashton bought the business from his widow. Mr. Ashton later founded The Junction Pharmacy in Princeton Junction.

The last day of business at the old location will be February 28, and Mr. Campbell hopes to be able to start right up the following Monday in the new quarters. Russell Stover candy will still be carried, but not greeting cards and fancy fragrances.

VICE-PRESIDENT NAMED

By RCA. Appointment of Nathan L. Gordon, of 416 Riverside Drive as Staff Vice-President, Systems Research Laboratory, has been announced by Dr. William M. Webster, Vice-President, RCA Laboratories. Mr. Gordon has been Director of the Systems Research Laboratory since formation in 1969.

Nathan L. Gordon

Research under Mr. Gordon's direction included working closely with RCA Consumer Electronics in the development of the new RCA XL-100 "ColorTrak" TV System. He joined RCA Laboratories in 1959, specializing in numerical analysis research. In 1962, he was appointed Head of the Applied Mathematics Group, and in 1967, Head of the Programming Research Group.

UNEARNED INCOME TAX

Topic of Bank Seminar. The Trust Division of The First National Bank will sponsor a seminar on the New Jersey "unearned income tax" at 7:30 on Thursday, March 4, in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn.

Robert J. Wells, manager of the Newark office of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Company, will be the principal speaker. He will discuss who is liable for the tax, what income is subject to tax, computation of the tax and planning opportunities. A question and answer period will follow the presentation, which is open to the public.

NEW BUILDING PLANNED

By Bohren's Movers. The Hillier Group, international planners and architects, has been named to design an expanded headquarters and main warehouse building here for Bohren's Moving and Storage.

The 22,000 square-foot office and warehouse structure will be located on a 12-acre site in West Windsor Township on Alexander Road, half a mile east of U.S. 1. Construction is planned to start this spring with completion in the fall.

Bohren's president, Ted Froehlich, said that the new facility is part of the firm's long-range planned expansion program. "Demand for our kind of quality-controlled storage and moving is ever increasing," he commented. "Our move from the present Hightstown Road facility is necessitated primarily by the need for more space to serve more people with increased efficiencies and economies."

Part of Route 518 to Be Closed Monday

Mercer County Engineer Donald T. Harney has announced that Route 518 north of Hopewell Borough will be closed to traffic as far as the Great Road, starting Monday.

The artery will be completely closed for four to five days to allow for the removal of an existing culvert and the replacement of a new center section. After that, the road will be closed only from 9 to 4 and will be open to traffic through the evening and night until the following morning. Weather permitting, the construction will be completed within four to five weeks.

The assigned detour route is: from the intersection of Routes 518 and 569 (Broad Street and Carter Road) south on Route 569 to the intersection of Rocky Hill-Cherry Valley Roads; east on Rocky Hill-Cherry Valley Road to the intersection of the Great Road and Cherry Valley Road; and north on the Great Road to the intersection of 518 with the Great Road.

WORKSHOP PLANNED

As Aid to Teaching Writing. Teachers looking for new ideas for writing activities are invited to attend Helikon's workshop, "Using Media Arts for Writing," which will be held at the Unitarian Church in Princeton on Saturday, February 28. The morning session from 9:30-12 is for teachers of grades 1-6, and the afternoon session from 1:30-4 is for teachers of grades 7-adult classes.

Participants will use slides, shadows and sound effects to stimulate ideas which are then expressed in individual and group writing ranging from graffiti walls to Me poetry. Techniques to encourage students to bridge the gap between creative expression and basic skills will also be explored.

Helikon is a program to encourage better self-expression through writing both in the school and in the community through its after-school classes, workshops, tutorials, and publications. The leaders of the workshop will be Mimi Schwartz and Kathy Kenfield who direct and teach in the Helikon program. They are developing new writing curriculae based on the creative arts and journalism, both at Helikon and in the department of English Education at Rutgers Unlversity.

The cost for either session is $6 and includes written materials for classroom use. For further information call 924-5782 or 924-6504.

CLASSES STILL OPEN

At Adult School. The Princeton Adult School has experienced one of the heaviest winter registrations in its history. Classes start this week at Princeton High School, and registration is still being accepted through the first week of the ten-week session so that overall figures are not yet complete.

Many of the classes are now filled, and prospective students are urged to contact Mrs. Urania Yuan regarding class space. One class where there are openings is an Adult School Bicentennial offering, "The French Participation in American Independence," taught by Douglass College professor Marie J. Hoog, who is researching a study on this subject.

For the connoisseur there are a few vacancies in the "Wine Tasting" class. Limited space is available in Landscape Gardening, Adult Folk Toys, Law for the Layman, Heroes and History, and Madame Bovary.

CHESS CLUB FORMED

At YMCA. An adult daytime Chess Club has been formed at the YMCA to meet each Thursday at 2:45 at the Y. It is hoped with sufficient interest that matches will be played at any convenient schedule between participants as well as at the Thursday meeting time. Those organizing the club include Herbert Pate, Frank Swaab and Gustave Kraus.

All are welcome without obligation until the club is fully organized, when modest dues will be requested.

IT'S NEW To Us

BETAMAX IS HERE

To Save Your Marriage. She wants to watch Monday Night at the Movies, he wants to watch Monday Night Football. What do you do?

She got theatre tickets two months ago, it's the night of the Princeton-Rutgers basketball game. What do you do?

Her mother calls long distance in the middle of The Adams Chronicles. What does she do?

The answer to all three is – invest in a Betamax.

This is Sony's new videocassette system for home use. Because it has two receivers, you can watch one program and record another for later viewing. This should eliminate that frantic switching from channel to channel catching bits and pieces of this and that, and more importantly, family fights in which the loser gets the black and white TV in the other room.

It is also possible to tape the program you are watching to view again or save for someone else; or you can go out for the evening and set the timer to record something you would hate to miss.

An added feature is a black and white camera (available shortly) that connects to a jack on the side of the Betamax console. With this you can record home movies in your livingroom and then later view them on Sony's television.

In this way it is possible to build a videotape library of TV specials, home movies and in the future purchased tapes. For instance, Time-Life is currently developing a series of telecourses that will include tennis as well as speed-reading by Dick Cavett.

This console which includes two receivers, a tapedeck and Sony's well-known 19-inch Trinitron color television set in a handsome wood cabinet costs $2295.

The receiver and tapedeck (to be used with your current television of any brand) are also available separately for $1300. This unit cannot record from your current television, but because it has a receiver (no picture tube) it can record through the antenna on whatever channel you select. Then later you connect the unit to your television and view the tape there.

Both these can be seen at the Princeton University Store, 36 University Place. The tape cassettes are here too, $15.95 for a one-hour tape that can be re-used many times. Although Princeton University Store doesn't carry them 30-minute tapes are also available ($11.95) and Sony is currently working on a 90-minute one.

SPRING HAS ARRIVED

At Karelia. While we doubt that winter has left the picture for very long, we are grateful for February's gift of Spring-like weather over the long holiday weekend. We also found a touch of what's to come at Karelia where Vuokko's new Spring clothes have arrived.

MEET BETAMAX: Sony's newest entry into the home television field, called a Betamax, is a videocassette system that enables you to record any television show for later viewing or even posterity if you so desire. This intriguing machine is now on display at the Princeton University Store.

These heavy all cotton dresses are extremely dramatic with bold prints and vibrant colors. Co-owner Maria Frey told us that this is the result of Finland's short summers. People are so happy to see this brief period of the year that everything is bright and gay and colorful.

The Vuokko fashions are simple with a classic look that should go on through many years. For instance, the newest style is a sleeveless, scoop-necked, apron dress that can be wrapped and tied either in the back or in the front under your bust. It is versatile and flattering, $52.

This dress is available in poppy with white dots, or in natural with black, brown, poppy or green dots. However, Mrs. Frey also plans to have Karelia make it in some of the Marimekko prints, probably in short and long lengths.

For a "fun" evening look Vuokko has a long, very full, shirtwaist dress in multi-colored wide stripes. It comes in a bold green, orange, blue and yellow or a muted combination of green, deep orange and two blues, $132 and definitely a dress that will be noticed.

Most spectacular however is the Bi-centennial dress. In a natural off-white, this long-sleeved dress flares from the yoke to the floor with a large blue swirl of color on one side and an equally dramatic red one on the other, $145. Mrs. Frey said, "It is just beautiful, but I figure I can only have one of these."

Short-Sleeved Shirts. Then by Vaccaro there is a group of pure cotton short-sleeved shirts in three styles – an open-neck sportshirt, a t-shirt and one with a square neckline and a detailed yoke, $14 to $24. They come in many colors and the open-neck one is also available in a tennis version.

Each Spring Marimekko introduces her new patterns, and while the bolts of fabric have not yet arrived, they are worth waiting for. There will be a diagonal butterfly stripe, a four-color design of a bright circle set in a square, one of repeated blue and white squares, a chicken with flowers, and several mini florals and large abstracts.

This fabric which gets its intense color from a special silk screen process of applying wet dye onto a dry surface has as many uses as your imagination can dream of. At Karelia you will find clothing, bedspreads, slipcovers, engagement books, pillows, wallhangings and very shortly, roman shades.

You can buy the fabric by the yard for a do-it-yourself project or have Karelia professionally do the work for you. A pillow case is $7.50 for a 16-inch square or $12.50 for a 24-inch one. However, on a larger scale we particularly liked the sets of floor pillows. Put three of these together and you don't need a couch. Each set costs $85 and consists of a floor pillow and a matching back.

Fabric As Artwork. This is probably the only fabric in the world frequently stretched and hung as artwork. The bold prints are extremely dramatic and certainly economical. A 24-inch wall hanging ready to be placed on its hook is $16, or you can buy it as a $10 kit (with instructions) and do the stretching yourself.

Also new this Spring is a group of color-coordinated sheets by Marimekko. There will be three patterns -- a swirly floral, a stripe and a tiny overall floral print -- available in acorn brown, grey, sky blue, poppy and yellow.

A third dimension of Karelia is its constantly changing selection of gifts. We particularly noticed a clear lucite clipboard, a tall slender wine carafe by Holmegaard of Denmark, a set of textured and frosted dessert bowls by Iittala, and for a breath of real Spring -- a Narcissus kit by Boda that includes a crystal bowl, pebbles and five bulbs, $8 to $20.

Also, currently there is a 30 percent close-out sale on the Finel cookware. It comes in white, brown, yellow or red, and the regular prices range from about $6 for a small bowl to $27.50 for a covered fry pan with a wooden handle.

Karelia at 20 Nassau Street is open Monday through Saturday from 10 until 5.

OTHER PAPERS will run your classifieds for half price, or for nothing if they do not sell. In TOWN TOPICS, you'll find more ads and better results.

SPORTS FANS!
I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Barnard

Here's a basketball oddity...The man voted the greatest basketball player of the first 50 years of this century in the Associated Press poll – George Mikan – actually was refused a basketball uniform when he tried out for his high school team in Joliet, Ill., because his glasses were too thick, and later he was advised by Notre Dame NOT to play college basketball because he was too awkward! ... But Mikan finally got to play for DePaul University and became a super star as a pro with the Lakers ... Then he won the voting for the best basketball player in America for the years of 1900-1950 ... But nobody would have predicted it, from the kind of start he had.

Did you know that one of the men now running for U.S. President once played pro basketball in the National Basketball Association? ... Representative Morris Udall of Arizona played with Denver when they were in the NBA.

To appreciate how tough it is to hit over 700 career home runs as Babe Ruth and Hank Aaron have done, do you realize that to reach that figure you have to average more than 35 homers a year for 20 years!

I bet you didn't know...that insurance agents are only as good as their claims service. Our claim service is excellent.

Tiger Quintet, Creating World-Beating Image for Every Foe, Finds Running from Shadows Can Lead Very Close to Disaster

Princeton's basketball team, which has been seeing ghosts of its own making that hardly deserve to be recognized, will return to Jadwin Gymnasium this weekend. Dartmouth, a respectable opponent, and last-place Harvard, which had been figured as a possible first-division team, will be here Friday and Saturday.

Apparently intent on warding off over-confidence because they whipped defending champion Penn in a pair of January games, the Tigers have psyched themselves into a mood that has them running scared of every opponent's shadow, no matter how mediocre its record. In its last three games, Princeton has trailed Cornell, Brown and Yale, climaxing a series of uptight performances by very nearly losing to the Elis Saturday at New Haven.

The overall record of these teams is a sparse 14 victories against a staggering 48 defeats. Small wonder that the Tigers have dropped out of the top 20 despite the fact that they have managed to win every game since the first of the year save that with Rutgers.

At Yale Saturday, the Tigers' case of the shakes was so extreme that in the final five minutes and 17 seconds, they were guilty of four turnovers while failing to get off a single shot. They were fortunate that they had a five-point lead (49-44) and that they were playing a team unable to take advantage of their demoralization.

A basket with 4:44 left and a pair of free throws with 2:50 to go enabled the Elis to draw within one. When they gained possession again on an Armond Hill turnover with 41 seconds left, they worked the clock down to the last shot but Steve Switchenko's 20-foot jumper just before the buzzer did not come close.

Yale Often In Charge. Although the Elis' basketball fortunes have been at a low ebb for a decade or more, they combined determination with Princeton's ineptness to dominate much of the early going. From a 4-0 deficit at the outset, they ran off eight straight points and then moved into a 20-13 lead. It was 29-25, Yale, at the intermission, and while the Orange and Black rallied to lead during most of the final half, it would have lost its unbeaten status among the Ivies on an accurate buzzer shot.

Hill's 14 points (matched by Bruce McKenna, an Eli who went into the game with a 6.4 average) were high, Bob Slaughter adding 13. The losers outshot Princeton, 51 percent to 47, and outrebounded it, 29-17. In the face of such second-rate play, it was surprising that the Tigers won, and Pete Carril said just that.

Losses at Brown Avenged. No member of the Princeton team had won during his career in Brown's Marvel Gymnasium– in fact, none had been in college since the Tigers had been victorious there, as the Bruins' Class of 1975 paved the way to three straight triumphs, each of which knocked the losers out of the Ivy race. Accordingly, the Orange and Black pointed for this one, won it, 56-47, and then very nearly could not muster enough more to beat Yale.

Hill and Barnes Hauptfuhrer were in early foul trouble, but Princeton managed to hold the lead for all but a minute in the early portion of the second half, when Brown was in front, 25-24. Hauptfuhrer drew his fourth personal with more than 16 minutes left, but stayed in the game and never did foul out.

The victors' margin went to as many as 14 points as the game progressed, but they are by no means offense-minded, and have not broken many games open of the 16 they have won in 20 starts. Both winning totals last weekend were below their game average of 62.5, but they pared their nation-leading defensive figure down a bit more (to 53.0), and that just barely brought them home free.

Hill led four Tigers in double figures with 6-6– 18, Mickey Steurer contributing his best shooting performance of the winter with 6-for-7 and 12 points. Next night at New Haven, however, he made but a lone field goal and continues to be unable to play well on successive nights.

The Tigers have not had the services of sophomore forward Frank Sowinski since he sustained a severe charleyhorse in the Columbia game on February 6. The muscle pull has resisted treatment, and his status this weekend remains in doubt.

Homecoming. Gary Walters, who played and coached here before taking over at Dartmouth last fall, has rejuvenated basketball at Hanover nicely, converting last year's 8-18 record into a current mark of 13-6. Captain Larry Cubas, the league's top sophomore a year ago, and Adam Sutton, the Ivy scoring leader in 1974 who was slowed by injuries last winter, are the Green's chief threats. Like Carril, Walters coaches a team that makes up for a lack of speed with disciplined play, working toward the high percentage shot. The string of low-scoring games in which the Tigers have participated all year seems bound to continue Friday.

Harvard's last two freshman teams compiled a combined record of 30-and-2, but the opposition hasn't been all that strong, and the results at the varsity level have been far from bright. Last winter, the Crimson just failed to break even at 12-13, while this season, it has already lost 13 games and won only six.

Captain Bill Carey, a 6-5 forward, and 6-9 Brian Banks, the center, are Harvard's top pointmakers. The Cambridge quintet has not won over Princeton in the last 10 games in the rivalry.

TIGERS TOP YALE, 6-5

After Blowing 4-Goal Lead. Midway through the second period in Baker Rink Saturday night, Princeton's hockey team was dominating Yale so thoroughly that the chance of a rare shutout began to seem remotely possible. The Tigers were coasting on a 4-0 lead and goalie Robin Rollefstad was knocking out everything that came his way.

The chance for a whitewash of the Blue was erased a few moments later when Rollefstand, trying to clear a rebound that came back just to the right of the goal mouth, inadvertently swept it in.

Before the round ended, however, sophomore Barry Wihak glanced a shot off the Yale goalie's shoulder and the Tigers left the ice with one round to go and a 5-1 lead.

When play resumed, the Elis took total charge, steadily chipping away at their deficit. One defensive lapse after another cost the Tigers dearly, and with just over a minute to go, the visitors finally drew even. One of their goals was fired into an unguarded cage-- left that way when Rollefstad dove some 20 feet to his right in a vain attempt to smother the puck and could not return in time.

If freshmen had not been made eligible for Ivy hockey this season, the Tigers would in all likelihood have lost to a Yale team which has not won an Ivy game in two years. Forty-nine secoods into overtime, 18-year old Trevor Kilburn fired the puck from 25 feet to the left of the cage, beating the Eli goalie between his pads and the near post. For the first-year forward from Winnipeg, it was the hat trick.

Tigers Score Earty. A goal by freshman Craig Tresham and Kilburn's first gave Princeton a 2-0 lead before the game was two minutes old, and Kilburn added another later in the period to give the contest what appeared to be lopsided domination. The impression mounted early in the middle round when Captain Dunc Fisher banged one in from the slot.

Prosperity was, however, more than the Orange and Black could stand, and the steady switch of momentum toward the determined Elis became increasingly visible as action progressed. The Bulldogs' cause was helped by an unusual mid-period substitution, Yale coach Paul Lufkin switching goalies in midstream. His second choice allowed but one Tiger goal in the last 30 minutes of regulation time, and he got no protection from his teammates on Kilburn's unimpeded blast for the game-winner.

The victors took more shots overall, but they were frequently off-target in the poorly-played game, and Yale led in the number on goal, 38-36. The defeat was the Elis' 15th in 19 games, while Princeton is now 5-13-1.

Twenty-four hours earlier, the Tigers had turned in a solid game in many respects as they carried league-leading Brown down to the wire, losing 4 to 3. Kilburn got them off to a short-lived lead with a goal early in the first period, but the Bruins came even in short order and then led the rest of the way.

Frank Techar and Dunc Fisher provided the other Princeton goals, while Mike O'Leary had a good night in the nets. He was credited with 38 saves.

Two Victories in Five Days. The week was the team's best of the season as it won two out of three by opening with a 7-3 triumph over Army. The Tigers fell from a 3-1 advantage to a 3-all deadlock as the middle period ended but won with a four-goal surge in the closing round. Gary O'Meara, Techar, Fisher and Kris Kollevol provided the scores, Techar and Fisher each finishing the game with a pair.

TWO GAMES, FOUR GOALS: One against Brown, the hat trick against Yale, including the winner in overtime, made it a fine weekend for Princeton freshman Trevor Kilburn.

The Tigers now face their toughest road trip of the season, playing a high-scoring Dartmouth team at Hanover Friday night and facing Harvard at Cambridge Saturday. The Green, an 8-7 overtime victor here way back on November 29, has been playing fine hockey. In its Winter Carnival game Saturday, the New Hampshire sextet topped Cornell in a wild battle, 9 to 7.

TWO SHARE POE CUP

Beible, Frederick Honored. The awarding of the John Prentiss Poe Cup to senior quarterback Ron Beible and senior linebacker Ken Frederick last week highlighted the annual Princeton University Football Awards Dinner.

The Poe Cup is presented each year to that senior or seniors "for all around ability and character," and is considered Princeton's highest gridiron prize. Beible, who was the starting quarterback for the Tigers over the past three seasons, established himself as the Tigers' all-time leading passer. Frederick was the Tigers' top defensive player last fall, leading the team in total tackles.

Three other trophies were also presented at the dinner. The Charles W. Caldwell Memorial trophy for "the greatest improvement in football at Princeton" was presented to defensive back Tom Lazenga, who moved into the starting lineup this season after overcoming tough odds.

The Dr. Harry R. McPhee Award, presented "for demonstrated qualities of durability and fortitude," was shared by senior middle guard Jay Dawson and senior defensive end Mark Faurie. Special coaching awards were given to seniors Dan McGillycuddy, Ed Sheridan, Scott Morrison, Neil Chamberlin and Jim Williamson.

Running back Ken Foote received the Donald B. Lourie Award for "ability, conduct and attitude" as a freshman.

ONE GOAL REMAINS

For Princeton Day Quintet. It has been a season to remember for coach Alan Taback and the Princeton Day basketball team.

Winners in 18 out of 20 contests, including two tournaments, the Panthers were scheduled to play Rutgers Prep away this Wednesday afternoon to close out their regular season. After that they hope to put the icing on the cake by capturing their third consecutive Class B title in the state tournament.

Not surprisingly they have been seeded first in the tournament, and after a first round bye (seven teams are entered), the Panthers will play the winner of the Saddle River Country Day-Wardlaw game next Wednesday at Peddie.

Had it chosen to enter the A division of the state tournament to compete against schools such as Hun, Peddie and Lawrenceville, PDS would have been seeded number one there also. It has beaten Hun twice, Peddie two out of three, and lost to Lawrenceville once. However, Peddie defeated Lawrenceville handily when they met. Taback said the decision to remain in the B division was made by the players.

The Panthers picked up vicotries number 17 and 18 under vastly different conditions last week. On Wednesday, they ho-hummed through a 69-43 triumph over Montclair, but 24 hours later the Blue and White had to scramble all the way to nip Princeton High, 61-57.

Jumping to a 12-2 lead against Montclair, the Panthers led 20-6 at the end of the first quarter. The teams played fairly evenly in the second period, as PDS began to let up, but a 14-5 margin in the third quarter put the game on ice.

Frank Konstantynowicz shot seven for 14 from the field to finish with 20 points, followed by Randy Melville with 18 (and 15 rebounds).

PHS Hangs Tough. PHS coach Marvin Trotman and his players came into the PDS gym Thursday and almost went home with another upset win. Had not two Little Tiger starters, Felix Brown and Robbie McPherson been forced out in the third quarter with five personals, it might have been a different story.

They were sorely missed in the fourth period, as the Little Tigers hung in and even managed to tie the score at 51-all with four minutes left. PDS took the lead again, but PHS twice lost points on foul shots, when players stepped over the line too soon.

PDS had both Melville and Bill Baggitt in foul trouble in the second period, when each picked up his third personal, but both were around at the end. Melville contributed several key baskets down the stretch.

The Blue and White, who beat PHS by 35 points in a pre-

PHS FIVE PEAKING?

St. Anthony's Here Friday. A Princeton High School basketball team which last week gave evidence of peaking just at the right time before the start of the annual NJSIAA state tournament has a few more regular season games left to play.

The Little Tigers will entertain St. Anthony's in a Friday afternoon contest starting at 3:45, hoping to atone for an opening season lost to the Iron Mikes, and will then meet Trentoo again in a rescheduled game set for Monday at 3:30 in Trenton.

PHS coach Marvin Trotman has been so pleased with his team's progress that, following Princeton's 72-59 victory over Steinert Friday – the Little Tigers' sixth in its last eight starts – he predicted that PHS would be the only team in Mercer County to defeat the powerful Tornadoes. Yes, he was smiling when he made the remark.

Trenton, 19-2, defeated PHS here two weeks ago, 82-57.

On Wednesday, PHS will travel to Notre Dame for a game starting at 8. After that, only a contest with West Windsor remains before the Blue and White begins action in the NJSIAA event. Its opening-round match against Metuchen will be played at the PHS gym March 2 at 8 p.m.

PHS is presently tied with Ewing for fourth place in the Mercer County League where both clubs are 4-5. But off their past week's performances, the Little Tigers have an outside chance of finishing as high as second, overtaking Notre Dame and slumping Hamilton (7-4). They got off to a poor start by losing their first four league games.

White Draws Praise. "We're playing much better ball," agreed Trotman after the Steinert win. He attributed it to much better defensive play, better rebounding and "scoring from each one of our players," particularly Ian White, who has earned a starter's role as Princeton's fifth man.

"Ian's been a real big lift," said Trotman. "He's a streak shooter, one of the better ones in the area. He is giving us ten points a game." White has averaged 10.5 points over the last eight games.

Against Steinert, PHS got untracked after a poor first quarter and came on to outscore the Spartans 25-8 in the second period. In their first meeting, Steinert had shot 50 percent to fashion a 70-58 win; this time the Spartans connected on only 31 percent of their shots while the Little Tigers were converting 27 of 62 attempts for 43 percent.

"The difference between today and yesterday" (PHS had lost a 61-57 decision to Princeton Day School on Thursday) Trotman maintained, "was we didn't get into any foul trouble. Brown played his game today and whenever he doesn't have head troubles we're usually in the ball game."

Felix Brown, PHS forward, had 18 points, hitting on 8-of-21 shots from the floor. Trotman also received an outstanding, 18-point game from Robbie McPherson, pointing out that PHS has lost every game in which McPherson has fouled out. "We have to have him in there." Both Brown and McPherson fouled out in the third period against Princeton Day School.

Junior Oldham led all scorers with 22 points, 10 from the free throw line, while White, the fourth PHS player to reach double figures, added 12. White tossed in four jump shots in the second period when PHS turned the game around.

"Played Gamely, But..." Against PDS the day before, Trotman commented after the game that "we played gamely with our subs but you can't lose two starters against a team— like that and expect to win."

Trotman was gracious in defeat. "PDS is a good team," he said, "well coached. They played well together. They're a bunch of tough kids – they're not like your everyday prep school team."

His own team "fell completely apart," maintained Trotman, when McPherson fouled out late in the third period and Brown followed soon after with 37 seconds left. "But our kids didn't quit."

Despite the loss of Brown and McPherson, PHS managed to tie the game at 51 with 3:53 left to play – the first deadlock since a 10-10 tie in the first period. Two steals by White and another basket for six points led the Tiger comeback.

"This is too close for comfort; I'd like to have a cushion of 40 to 50 points," said a concerned PDS fan. But in the remaining minutes, the Panthers big four scored ten points to six for PHS to preserve their 18th victory in 20 games.

Billy Martin hit on four free throws, Bill Baggitt and Randy Melville scored clutch baskets and Frank Konstantynowicz added two more charity tosses. Oldham scored four of Princeton's last six points, the last two an uncontested layup, with six seconds left.

PDS held the ball for more than two minutes at the half and then scored a layup to take a 29-25 halftime margin. The Panthers then got the first eight points of the second half and seemed on the verge of putting the Little Tigers away. At one point, McPherson was so annoyed over letting Konstantynowicz score a layup on a toss-in that he kicked the ball in disgust.

That brought a "T" and

PHS was assessed another one when it called time near the end with no time outs remaining. (Konstantynowicz converted for the final point of the game.) Two other infractions near the end cost PHS crucial four shots when one player went over the line while shooting and again when another player stepped into the lane too soon.

Oldham (17 points) Brown (12) and McPherson (10) led PHS while Melville (19), Baggitt (15) and Martin (12) were high for the Panthers. Koostantynowicz added nine.

Earlier in the week, Oldham and White scored 15 points to lead PHS to a 52-38 win over Lawrence High which dropped its 12th game of the season. Brown and McPherson combined for 14 more.

HUN HAS EASY TIME

With Friends Central Five. Everybody played and six reached double figures as the Hun School basketball team ran up its highest point total of the season in defeating visiting Friends Central Friday, 90-57.

"We had an easy time of it," admitted Hun coach Dave Leete, who added the Quakers "weren't very good." Hun led, 31-8, after the first period.

Ahead for Hun is a Friday afternoon game with Academy of New Church in Bryn Athyn, Pa. and a contest this Wednesday afternoon – also away – against Mitchell Prep.

Saturday, Hun will play its first-round opponent in the annual New Jersey Prep School A Championship tournament. It will meet Newark Academy at 2 in the Wardlaw School gym in Edison. Both Peddie and Lawrenceville School, the defending champion, have drawn opening-round byes.

Against Friends Center, Ron Payton and Nick Brady led Hun with 16 points apiece. Ken Duvin added 15, Terry McEwen 13, Tim Teel 11 and Bob Innocenzi, 10. It was the losers' ninth setback in 15 games, Hun's fourteenth win in 19 starts.

TRENTON 45-12 VICTIM

Of PHS Matmen. Trenton may rule the basketball couri but Princeton High School proved it was king of the wrestling mat last week when it defeated the visiting Tornadoes, 45-12, in its final home appearance of the season. Coach Tom Murphy's Little Tigers are 7-6 in the won-lost columns.

PHS will end its regular season Saturday afternoon at Notre Dame in a match starting at 3. It was scheduled to oppose rival West Windsor this Wednesday evening at the Pirates' gym in aa 8 p.m. contest.

Four bouts into the match with Trenton, the Little Tigers owned a 24-0 lead after Matt Wilkinson and Joel Schulman won by forfeit and Peter Kahn (115 pounds) and Dave Robinson (122) recorded pins in 3:47 and 5:37. Robinson's pin of Fred Biandi was his sixth of the season and raised his record to 11-1-1.

Heavyweight Nate Harris pinned Trenton's Miguel Ortiz 15 seconds into the second period. Karem Heiba (135), Steve Ebersole (148), Jim O'Grady (158) and Paul Soderman (170) all won decisions for PHS, Soderman capturing a 10-1 major decision over Joe Henderson.

Trenton scored all its points when Rickey Lockett pinned John Hoover in 3:54 in the 188-pound class, Angelo Perischilli won a major 11-2 decision over Dan Amarel and Steve Salters battled Dave Wilson of PHS to a 5-5 draw at 129 pounds.

Hopewell Valley clinched the Mercer County wrestling championship the same day with a 30-15 victory over Steinert.

for the singles crown this weekend will include Jeff Kefalos and Rip Trammel of South Carolina, Miguel Maurtua of Penn State and John Botica of Ohio State.

Georgia, which has captured the doubles title at the Princeton Tourney for the past three years, has an excellent chance to make it four wins in a row this year thanks to the talented tandem of Tim Delaney and Charles Ellis. They will receive stiff competition from Jeff Hull and Jeff Kefalos of South Carolina and from Princeton's Fisher and Dutton.

Preliminary rounds will begin on Friday at 9 a.m. Quarter-finals and semi-finals will be held on Saturday with the finals in both singles and doubles are set for Sunday. Tickets for the tournament are priced at $1.

FINAL MEET SATURDAY

For West Windsor Matmen. The West Windsor High School wrestling team, which defeated Hamilton, 40-7, and lost to Highland Park, 28-22, last week, will wrestle its final dual meet of the season on Saturday.

Ken Bernabe's Pirates, 7-4-2, will wind it up at Monroe near Jamesburg in a match starting at 8. Monroe is in its first year of varsity wrestling. This Wednesday evening at 8, West Windsor was scheduled to entertain rival Princeton High School at 8 in a match described by Bernabe as a high-school equivalent of the Army-Navy game.

The match with Higbland Park was one the Pirates let slip away. "I wanted this one; I was disappointed," admitted Bernabe. It was the second and final meeting between the two schools and Bernabe's hope of evening the series went down the drain as Highland Park (8-4-1) dominated the middle matches.

West Windsor scored 15 points in the last three bouts as Rich Holcombe engineered a 10-5 decision to raise his personal mark to 14-1 and brother Chris Holcombe (13-2) followed with a pin in 1:42 in the 188-pound class. Heavyweight Daryl MacPherson ended proceedings with a fall in 5:37.

The "heartbreaker," the match that turned it around came in the 141-pound class where Rudy Wellnitz, ahead in the early going, got tied at 8-8 and went ahead again only to lose an 11-10 decision when his opponent scored a reversal at the buzzer.

The rest was all Hanover Park, with the exception of the 101-pound class where Mark Edenfield won a major 11-0 decision and Scott Peet won a 5-3 decision at 135 pounds. Troy Peck (108), John Houtenville, (115) and senior Andy Baan (148) who has won a starting berth from Pete Slinn, all suffered pins.

Against Hamilton, Rich Holcombe scored the only pin of the match– his ninth of the year– when he flattened Bob Crawford in 2:31. Chris Holcombe decisioned Bud Schweder, 6-2, in the heavyweight match.

Two draws and a decision at 141 pounds, where Wellnitz was again a one-point victim (8-7), accounted for all of Hamilton's points.

Edenfield, Houtenville, Keith Geisel, Peet, George Noble and MacPherson all won decisions for WW.

Paddle Tourney Planned

Platform Tennis Championships for men's and women's teams in the Princeton area will again be held this year during the second week in March. Sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department, the tournaments are open to any Princeton resident or non-residents affiliated with Community Park or Bedens Brook, Pretty Brook or Hopewell Valley clubs.

Women will play Monday through Wednesday, March 8-10, with the finals on Sunday, March 14. Men will play Saturday and Sunday, March 13-14. The draw will be limited to 32 teams, with qualifying matches scheduled, if necessary.

Entry blanks, located at all clubs and the Recreation Department, should be submitted together with $6.50 to the department office before Wednesday, March 3. Entries may be mailed to the Department, Township Hall, Princeton.

Defending champions are Connie Fleming and Sue McCabe, and Gerry Mould and Don Reed.

HAMILTON HANGS ON

To Defeat Hun, 84-77. Ahead 55-41 midway through the third period, Hamilton High school let visiting Hun close to within two, 66-64, Monday but then rallied for a 84-77 victory.

For Hun, it was the end of a five-game win streak and the end of a two-game Hamilton slump. Both teams are presently 14-6.

Ron Payton, the sophomore center, was the big gun for Hun with 25 points, after being held scoreless in the first period. Nick Brady added 19 and Tom Dillione, 16. The Hornets' Lance Erbe led all scorers with 29.

Both teams were accurate from the foul line— Hun was 19 for 23, including 9-for-9 in the last period, and Hamilton was 24 for 32, including a 14-for-14 stretch also in the final period.

SOCCER SCHEDULED

Indoors on Saturday. The Princeton Soccer Club will play a series of matches with several teams from The Bricktown Soccer Club, Bricktown, on Saturday.

Bricktown teams have been in operation for several years and travel to a number of tournaments along the east coast. Like The Princeton Soccer Club, they are just beginning their first season of indoor soccer. Action begins at 12 at Stuart Country Day, where the Princeton Senior All-Stars will meet a Bricktown squad.

This will be followed at 12:45 by a match of intermediate All-Stars. At the same time at Princeton Day School, two junior teams from the respective clubs will be competing against each other.

PDS SEXTET WINS 7-1

Over Wissahickon. When the opposing team only shows up with six skaters and no goalie, it's bound to take the edge off the ensuing contest. So it was when Princeton Day played Wissahickon last Wednesday, winning 7-1 in lacklustre fashion.

PDS gave the visitors its second-string goalie Mark Beskind and a third line for one period, until the rest of the Wissahickon players arrived. At the time the Panthers were leading by just 1-0 on a goal by David O'Connor.

They made it 3-0 in the second period and added four more tallies in the final stanza. Murray Wilmerding scored twice for PDS, while Arthur Guerin, Tim Brush, Bill Erdman and Steve Judge added single tallies. Rich Olsson had 12 saves.

A return contest with Wissahickon was scheduled for this Wednesday afternoon. The Blue and White will play Peddie at home at 4:30 on Friday in their final game before the tournament next weekend. If all goes well, they should be 8-7 after the Peddie contest.

TENNIS MEETING SET

Wednesday in W. Windsor. The West Windsor Recreation Commission will hold its annual tennis meeting on Wednesday evening, February 25, at 8 in the library building, Dutch Neck. Subjects to be discussed are the morning and evening leagues, tennis lessons for children and adults, tennis court improvements, tennis rules, etc. All township residents are welcome.

News Of The CHURCHES

NEW CHURCH FINISHED

In West Windsor. The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church will hold its first service this Sunday in its new church on Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction. The colonial style building, completed two months ahead of schedule, was built by the Carl F. Jacobelli Co. of Ewing.

Sunday services will be held at the same time that they have been held in the Maurice Hawk School, with Sunday School beginning at 10 and Sunday worship starting at 11. An official dedication service will be held on Sunday, February 29, at 4.

Questions regarding the church and these services may be addressed to the pastor, Rev. Frederick Schott, at 799-1753 or 799-1783. Everyone is welcome to these services.

1776 WORSHIP PLANNED

At Kingston Presbyterian. The church school and congregation of the Kingston Presbyterian Church will meet this Sunday at 10 a.m. for a Bicentennial Celebration. Brunch will be provided by the Senior High Fellowship at which time 14 members will be honored for more than 50 years of membership.

An authentic 1776 Protestant worship service will follow in the sanctuary with the men and women sitting on opposite sides of the church.

The oldest living member is Mrs. Flora Tichenor of Kingston, 97, who joined the church in 1903. Others to be honored are Mrs. Fergus Anerson and Mr. and Mrs. William Voorhees Jr., Penns Neck; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Freeman, West Windsor; Mrs. Luther Eisenmann and Miss Myrtle MacKenzie, Cranbury; Mrs. Ferd Kuhn, South River; William Golden, Hightstown; Mrs. Robert Luck, Clifton Snedeker and John Potts, Kingston; and Mrs. Frederick Stout, Monmouth Junction.

QUILT TELLS STORY

Of Bicentennial Church. More than 20 women from the First United Methodist Church of Pennington have completed work on a quilt that depicts the history of their church, which celebrated its own bicentennial two years ago. The women, working under the direction of Marion Wadsworth, who teaches quilting at the Princeton YWCA, took more than a year to complete the project.

The quilt consists of 30 blocks, set off by different quilting stitches. Each block is devoted to a different part of the church's history. The names of the church's pastors are embroidered between the blocks.

One of the quilters was Mrs. Lawrence Moores wife of the superintendent of the Methodist Church's Central District. She also embroidered into the quilt the name of her husband, who served as pastor at the Pennington Church from 1970 to 1974.

The quilt will be kept on permanent display at the church in a custom-framed glass case, which is the gift of Edgar Roesch.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Rev. Dr. Norman Pittenger, of the divinity faculty at Cambridge University, will speak on "Church and Ministry in Process Thinking," Friday, February 27, at 1:20 in the Campus Center lounge at the Princeton Theological Seminary. Adults vs. Teens

Princeton's First Baptist Church will sponsor a friendly battle of the generations this Saturday at 7:30 in the YMCA when teen-aged members and friends of the church will play basketball against the church's adults.

"David and the Giants," a musical drama, will be staged Sunday, February 29, at the Princeton United Methodist Church. Annette Sims will direct the youth choirs in this production, which relates the David and Goliath story to the present times. Lunch will follow the service.

Topics of the Town

TWO STUDENTS SLAPPED

On University Campus. Two Princeton University undergraduate students were assaulted early Saturday morning within three minutes of each other by two assailants who slapped each across the face.

Police report that a 20-year old woman was walking in front of Foulke Hall at 12:10 when two men passed her and one suddenly slapped her, dazing her. She described one as between 5-10 and 6-0, medium build with a possible Afro, wearing a blue and white head band and blue clothing. She could not describe the second suspect.

Three minutes later, an 18-year old male student was approached, apparently by the same two, and assaulted in the same way. No words were exchanged in either attack, police said.

CHARITIES TO BENEFIT

From Elks Club Program. The Elks of Princeton (No. 2129) will sponsor a "Night of Harmony" next Saturday evening, February 28, at the lodge home on Route 518, Blawenburg.

Starting at 8:15, the program will feature the barbershop singing of the Garden Statesmen Chorus and the Sweet Adelines. Ticket reservations ($3) may be obtained by calling 466-9813 and asking for Douglas Watson or Elmer Perantoni. Food will also be provided.

Among the charities supported by the Elks are Crippled Children, the National Foundation which provides scholarships for needy students, youth leadership awards, various youth activities and Veterans' programs.

A portion of the proceeds will also go to the Institute of Logopedics in Wichita, Kansas, supported by the Barbershoppers, who provides treatment for children with hearing and speech defects.

VISION SCREENING SET

In Montgomery Township. A Preschool Vision Screening Program will be held at the Burnt Hill Road School in Montgomery Township on Friday, February 27 from 9 to 11 and 1 to 3. It is sponsored by the Montgomery Township P.T.S.A. in conjunction with the New Jersey State Commission for the Blind.

Its purpose is to discover children with defects in eyesight which, if not corrected, may affect a child's ability to learn in school or may result in a permanently weak eye. Among the eye problems which may be found is a condition known as amblyopia or "lazy eye," which occurs when normal vision fails to develop. Since the visual process is usually developed by age 6, early detection is vital so that treatment can be started to give the best possible correction.

Parents are urged to bring children 3 to 5 to have their vision screened during this program. Children who do not pass the screening will be referred to their eye specialists for a complete eye examination.

WILDERNESS IS TOPIC

Of University Lecture. The Faculty Committee on Public Lectures of Princeton University will present "Why Wildlife, Why Wilderness" by Scott McVay of the Robert Sterling Clark Foundation and Board of Directors of the World Wildlife Fund. The lecture is funded by the L.C. Vanuxem Fund and will take place Tuesday, February 24, at 8:30 in the Woodrow Wilson School Auditorium.

MEETING MONDAY

To Plan Windsor Arbor Day. The West Windsor Recreation Commission, working with the West Windsor Environmental Commission, has begun work on the fifth annual Arbor Day program to be held in the spring. The initial meeting will be held on Monday evening at 8 in the library in Dutch Neck when plans for this year's program will be formulated.

Any West Windsor resideot interested in assisting would be welcome, especially representatives from township organizations such as civic groups, school organizations, Boy Scouts, and Girl Scouts. If there are any questions, call 799-1642.

FREE ART PROGRAM

After School At Valley Road. The Princeton Recreation Department has taken over the sponsorship of an arts and crafts program for all school age residents. The program is held in the Valley Road School Art Room, Monday through Friday from 3 to 4:30, with the exception of the Wednesday program, which begins at 1:30 and ends at 3:30.

Artists from the community work with the children in all media. Because the instruction is all volunteer and the supplies are old materials or things that have been donated, the program is free to all Princeton area children. Old candles, parafin, cardboards, crayons or clay, are welcome.

John Hart of Hopewell, Who Signed Declaration Of Independence, Overlooked as Years Go By

Fifty-six men signed the Declaration of Independence. One of them, John Hart of Hopewell, seems destined to be assigned always to the footnotes -- even in the histories of New Jersey. No authentic portrait of him has ever been found; he left little written material.

Hart had already begun to be wrapped in mystery even by 1864, when a monument was dedicated in his honor on Hopewell's main street. An historian at that time wrote of the town's signer:

"Born, where or when, no man now appears to know, and whose handwriting many have sought and few have found, in other form than on a Colonial note."

Some data is known. He was born in Connecticut, and was baptized on March 5, 1714 (or was it December 21, 1713, as some footnotes say, probably because a different calendar existed then?)

Hart apparently had no formal education. One writer, not likely to endear himself to Hart's descendants, wrote in 1883 that "the few specimens we have of his manuscript" indicated that the Signer was "an illiterate writer."

Active in Politics. That judgment was based perhaps on the traditional view that learning takes place only in a schoolroom. Hart knew more than enough to become a farmer of some means, and his neighbors often called on him to witness wills and other documents.

Hart also became Hopewell's leading political figure. He became a justice of the peace in 1755 and was elected to the New Jersey Assembly in 1761. He served Hunterdon County in the Assembly for ten years, winning a reputation as a champion of "the rights of the people."

Still, he was not out of favor with New Jersey's Royal government that was serving at the pleasure of King George III. Hart was appointed a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas in 1774 – evidence that the harsh assessment of him as "illiterate" was much in error.

Judge Hart cast his lot early with the Revolutionists and was elected to New Jersey's rebellious first Provincial Congress in July, 1774.

Signed Paper Money. Revolution's quickening pulse swept Hart swiftly along – to membership on the Committee of Correspondence in 1775 and the Committee of Safety in 1776. His fellow members in the Provincial Congress thought enough of his penmanship to give him the task of signing the reams of paper money issued by the Congress early in 1776.

And they thought enough of his abilities, as a thinker and as a money signer, to name him as one of the five men named on June 22, 1776, to attend the final debates on the Declaration of Independence. The uneducated Hopewell farmer had come a long way.

Hart was a marked man after he signed the Declaration. When British and Hessian troops chased Washington across New Jersey to the banks of the Delaware River in late 1776, his life was in danger.

Marauding Hessians forced Hart to flee into the Sourland Mountains above Hopewell. He left behind his desperately ill wife, Hannah. She died while New Jersey's hunted Signer sought anonymity in the hills.

One account of Hart's flight said this:

A Hunted Man. "While Washington's army was dwindling down to a mere handful, this old man was carrying his gray hairs and infirmities about from cottage to cottage, and from cave to cave, while his farm was pillaged, his property plundered, his family afflicted and dispersed.

"He was, through sorrow, humiliation and suffering, wearing out his bodily strength, and hastening the approach of decrepitude and death. Yet he never despaired, never repented the course he had taken."

Hart returned to his farm in 1777 and recouped part of his losses before he died, on May 11, 1779, at his farm near the old Baptist Church.

Hopewell's Signer was nearly forgotten by 1864, when the New Jersey Legislature voted to raise a monument in his memory. Ironically, he was carelessly remembered even in death: his death year was chiseled on the monument as 1780.

Better to remember him in the words of Governor Joel Parker, the orator at the monument dedication:

"No man exercised greater influence in giving direction to the public opinion which culminated in independence."

THREE APPOINTED

To Red Cross Board. Three new members have been appointed to the board of directors of the Princeton Red Cross, it was announced by David Glen, Chapter chairman.

Serving a one-year term as solicitor is T. Frederick Kenny, an attorney with American Cyanamid. Mr Kenny lives at 174 Moore Street with his wife and two children, and is a graduate of Harvard and Columbia Law School.

Serving one-year terms as youth members of the Board are Betsy Gurk of 26 Howe Circle, and Lisa Freund, of 50 Wheatsheaf Lane. Betsy and Lisa are both students at Princeton High School

Doll house, probably the buy of the decade. Handmade many years ago, thick pine, roomy proportions. Look at new offerings: frail, miserably constructed, and mostly of plywood, higher priced than ours, and figure which will be handed down by generations and still survive in 2076.

STONYBROOK HOMESITE

The buffalo may not roam on this high meadowland, nor wander down to the wide brook to drink, but you can be sure the deer and other wildlife do! Equally enjoyable for people is this lovely pastoral setting--almost 20 acres in a particularly desirable estate area. It has various building possibilities to offer; but there is one spot which looks down through the trees to the running brook that would make a heavenly homesite for someone who wants something special. Adding the practical to the pastoral, the land is only 3½ miles from Palmer Square. Please call us for further details

A LOOK AT THE PAST

Last week we noted that Pennington's first name was "Queens Town" in honor of Queen Anne.

In the summer of 1697, Thomas Revell, as agent for the West Jersey Society, sold 1300 acres, in what would soon become Hopewell Township, to Johannes Lawrenson of Maidenhead. Three years later, Lawrenson resold this land to Richbell Mott who sold it again eight years later to John Cornwall, Nathaniel Moore, John Mott, and Thomas Read (Reed), who established the first real settlement. If commerce is what transforms a settlement into a village, we may place that date at shortly after 1720 when John Smith opened the first store. It was also around this time that Pennington's first church was built. It was the third church of the First Presbyterian Church in Hopewell (the first had been built in Maidenhead, and the second in what is now Ewing Township, and the fourth was subsequently built in Trenton). Some time thereafter, Pennington's first public house or inn was established on Main Street by one John Bullman, presumably around 1750.

"Queens Town" soon was changed to "Pennytown". Unlike many Colonial names which had honored people or institutions of the Empire and were changed in the post-Revolutionary era, the "Queens Town" name was changed in the pre-war years, reportedly in derision of the village's small size and apparent unimportance. "Pennytown" was changed to Pennington around 1747.

All New Listings - Henderson, Of Course

SPINE-TINGLING...denotes the charm and feeling found in our most unusual architect-designed circular contemporary in a sylvan wonderland of magnificent plantings, tall trees, inground angular pool and...privacy!

Two levels of living combine the best features for open informal entertaining, yet provide unlimited nooks and corners for a family of individual tastes and interests! Shown above is the main level overlooking the planned gardens, expansive deck and neighborhood lake. The outdoors is brought in by ground-to-ceiling thermopane box bay windows, sliding glass doors, and a commanding skylight over all! Of course, this innovative plan includes the usual amenities of kitchen and dining areas, bedrooms, library, studio, baths and more, but it is the extraordinary way it is all "put together" that must be seen! Please call for an appointment to see one of our area's most unique offerings. One and a half acres of au natural land. $147,500.

SPECTACULAR...describes the sweeping seven acres of fields and forests viewed from the expansive living room of a superb one-floor contemporary just on the border of Princeton Township! Originally built in 1948 and expanded thereafter, the center boasts a huge living room with 15' ceiling, fireplace, bookshelves, a wonderful wall of glass, wet bar and study! Two double bedrooms and a large tile bath are found here, too. One new wing houses the dining room with sliding doors, and gourmet kitchen! The most recent addition connects by a garden room to the master suite, exiting on to a redwood deck, terraces and lovely pool surrounded by perennial garden beds! A charming courtyard entrance is the focal point of all. Asking $185,000.

TWO-WAY VIEWING...That's right you must look at this house...front and back! Built on a hillside in the Brookstone area of mini-estates, it affords ranch-like living on one floor, while virtually doubling the space on the lower level (which can only be seen from the back!) It's really a dream for the family with two generations...both can have their own identities...and privacy! Foyer, living room with fireplace that opens as well to the dining room, fully equipped kitchen with dining area, master bedroom and bath, two other bedrooms and full bath. A wonderfully bright house with a deck across the back of it from which to enjoy the woods and brook! Downstairs: family room with floor-to-ceiling brick fireplace, two bedrooms (or one may be a den) and full bath. Utility room, too. The bedrooms and family room all have French doors opening to the patio. It's perfect for the relaxed way of life! 2.78 acres with new trees in front, and woods and brook in the back! FEATURES: Upper level is centrally air-conditioned; two furnaces; two-car garage with storage space; some aluminum triple-track storms & screens. $115,000.

MAJESTIC! In the tranquil setting of Olden Lane, we have one of Princeton's most coveted houses. Sturdily built in the 20's, and richly restored just five years ago, here is one of the finest properties for a comfort-loving family. There is a perfect blend of stone and clapboard on the outside with huge trees, and a magnificent terrace nestled privately midst the gardens behind the notable English fencing.

Warm panelling, marble fireplaces and expansive mouldings highlight the gracious rooms, divided into family living and entertainment areas! Perfect patterns throughout the downstairs and six colorful bedrooms with three and a half baths! A family kitchen has been added, too, with every built-in imaginable! Offered with a half acre at $230,000 with more land available. Please call for an appointment! We'd love to show this outstanding home to you.

STUNNING AND STURDY as only a builder would build for himself. Here's a spectacular ranch house on Province Line Road in Lawrence but with a Princeton address. Two and a half acres of carefully planned lawn and plantings. The gracious foyer boasts an Italian marble floor, powder room, Shoji sliding screen leading to the dining room which in turn has sliding glass doors leading to a covered slate terrace. The larger than usual living room features a fireplace of Tennessee marble with a raised hearth and an entire wall of teak, sliding glass doors leading to yet another covered slate terrace with a view of the private grounds and woods: Kitchen has every modern convenience imaginable including dining and laundry areas: panelled study or bedroom with bath, Master suite with bath and dressing room, hall bedroom or study, private guest suite with its own foyer, two bedrooms and bath. For the ultimate in convenience and location call Jack Henderson to see this new listing. $149,500.

SHADOWBROOK...in the woods, by the brook, near the hillside! A true atrium contemporary nestled so well in its woodland that it's virtually impossible to show what it looks like in a photograph! Built of solid California cedar, weathered silver like the surrounding tree trunks, its single story height and simple, classic lines make it one with the woods surrounding it, a large sparkling brook with a white bridge, a huge old oak tree, a gently sloping hillside! Many windows frame the outdoors into the infinitely varying pictures that make living with nature a joy and delight! The rooms surround a 32' x 32' center court with swimming pool! The house is radiant with light. Four bedrooms, 2½ baths and lots of space to be private or at one with the changing hours and seasons of nature...in all, not just a house, but a very special philosophy of living. Offered at $103,500.

HOME!...tucked in a gentle hillside across a little private road from a big pond and woods, this Princeton Township house has a country charm that makes you forget you're so close to all the advantages of living in town. The sunny living room (with a fireplace for cozy winter snuggling) is joined by a dining area leading to a screened porch for enjoying the great backyard with its own babbling brook and tall old shade trees. Off the eat-in kitchen is the den and a half bath near the back door – very convenient for the children playing outside. Upstairs is the master bedroom with its own bath plus three other bedrooms and a hall bath. A two-car garage and a separate big playroom complete the picture. Excellent move-in condition. We think you'd enjoy living here. $92,500.
